—'Keystone In Defense Chain'— Senate OKs Treaty To Defend Formosa

64 To 6 Vote Approves Pact; 2 Morse Amendments Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, by the overwhelming vote of 64-6 Wednesday night ratified the Formosa defense treaty.

The pact, signed with the Chinese Nationalist regime of Chiang Kai-shek, commits the United States to defend Formosa, Chiang's bastion, and the nearby Pescadores, against the Chinese Reds.

The Senate vote was far in excess of the constitutional requirement that treaties must obtain approval of two thirds of those voting. The Senate decision completed action, since treaties are not submitted to the House. The Chinese have already ratified.

Wednesday night's vote was the second recent notice to the Chinese Communists to keep hands off Formosa which they have vowed to take. On Jan. 28 the Senate completed congressional action on a resolution authorizing President Eisenhower to fight if necessary to defend Formosa, the Pescadores and "related positions."

Under this authority the 7th Fleet is now engaged in deploying Nationalist forces, screening their evacuation from the Tachen islands 200 miles north of Formosa.

Brief Debate

The top-sided approval of the Formosa treaty followed relatively brief debate. The six senators who voted "no" were Chavez (D-NM), Gore (D-Tenn), Kefauver (D-Tenn), Lehman (D-Lib, NY), Langer (R-ND) and Morse (Ind-Ore).

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which reported the treaty only Tuesday, called it "in a sense the keystone to our Western Pacific defense chain."

On the other side, Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) declared the treaty in his opinion pledges the United States to defend "not a country but a government whose rule is very doubtful."

"This document is a military alliance, not a treaty," he said.

—Kremlin Shakeup Continues— Soviets Wave Fists At West

Georgi Zhukov, Russian War Hero, Heads Armed Forces

MOSCOW (AP)—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, Russia's most glittering war hero, became head of the Soviet Union's armed forces Wednesday in a continuing shakeup of the regime. The conqueror of Berlin, designated defense minister, was among a number of army figures moving into the spotlight against a background of tough foreign policy pronouncements.

Through the Supreme Soviet (Parliament), the Soviet Union addressed a declaration to all parliaments of the world, warning that Europe "could become the arena of a new war" if the Western nations carry through plans to arm West Germany.

The Supreme Soviet, adopting this declaration, also heard the new Premier, Marshal Nikolai A. Bulganin, declare:

"Those lunatics who are brandishing atomic weapons and calling for atomic war must be called to order, and not a single government can ignore this."

Bulganin, handsome in his marshal's uniform, nominated Zhukov to succeed him as defense minister. He also nominated the deposed Premier, Georgi M. Malenkov, to be minister of power stations as well as a deputy premier, a big comedown for Malenkov but still an important government position.

The historic joint session of the Supreme Soviet's 1,300 members accepted both nominations—as they had accepted selection of Bulganin Tuesday—with a show of hands and stormy applause.

Zhukov, once in relative eclipse in the postwar Stalin days, emerged to great prominence after Stalin's death. Since he was a wartime acquaintance of President Eisenhower, then Allied commander in chief, in Germany the two have spoken words of mutual esteem.

Boasts Of Power

The session turned the spotlight on another World War II military hero, Marshal Ivan S. Konev, also emerging to greater prominence. Konev headed the military court which condemned police boss L. P. Beria to death in December, 1953, in a purge of the Soviet Union's secret police system.

To cheers from the Parliament deputies, Konev declared recent Soviet army maneuvers "have improved the Soviet Army's training in ways based on Soviet science."

He accused American "imperialists" of surrounding the Soviet Union with bases and propagandizing for atom warfare, adding that the Soviet Union loses no time in perfecting its skill and training under such circumstances.

"Our army," said Konev, "represents a mighty force which fully answers the demands and characteristics of modern war. If the imperialists dare to attack our motherland, the Soviet armed forces have at their disposal all kinds of weapons for the complete defeat of the aggressors."

A similar tone was set Tuesday in a major foreign policy statement by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, providing the background for the Soviet appeal drawing attention of the world's parliaments to "the situation in Europe."

D. T. Shepilov, editor of Pravda and chairman of the Council of Nationalists lower House Foreign Affairs Committee, read the statement to Parliament. It backed the government's contention that the United States is leading an "arms race of the imperialists" and renewed the Soviet demand for unconditional prohibition of all atomic weapons. The action looked like the kickoff for a new major "peace offensive" by the Soviet Union.

Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, 7th Fleet commander, messaged that the last organized group of the 17,000 civilians in the Tachens, 200 miles north of Formosa, were taken off Wednesday. Only a few stragglers remained in the hills and they were to be picked up later.

H. MacLear Bate, with the Chinese Navy and reporting for the Associated Press, messaged that the earth shook as the Tachen garrison dynamited its fortifications. Hills erupted as underground fortifications were blown up.

The scorched earth was being so thoroughly applied, he reported, that not a single house or temple had a window pane left. Anti-Communist signs were plastered everywhere.

To Maintain State's Rate Of Advance: Hardin Stresses Research Needs

HOLDREGE, Neb. — Nebraska agriculture will have greater need for research in the future if the state is to maintain its rate of advance of the past 20 years, Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin told the South Platte Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening.

Nebraska agriculture has completed "its basic training," he said. "From now on the problems become more complex. And from now on the demands upon the individual will be greater."

Dr. Hardin pointed to irrigation, "which is coming to many of our sections so fast that it is difficult to keep up with its extent."

"A good guess," he said, "is that Nebraska now has about 1,300,000 acres under irrigation. More than half of it is supplied by wells. We know that this development will continue and that it can add millions of dollars to our agricultural income."

New Look At Cuts In Army Demanded

Wilson Claims Issues At Kremlin, Formosa Justify No Re-Study

WASHINGTON (INS)—Senate armed services chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), declared Wednesday the Formosa crisis and Russia's switch in leadership called for a "very close re-examination" of the administration's plan to cut the size of the U. S. Army.

Russell made the statement to newsmen after hearing secret testimony by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The senator quoted Wilson as having said that neither the Kremlin shakeup nor Red China's bellicose attitude in the Formosa crisis "justified a re-appraisal of decisions heretofore taken by the President and others to reduce the size of the armed forces."

Later, Wilson told newsmen that despite the Formosa situation and the shift in power in the Kremlin, he sets no reason to abandon proposed cuts in U.S. military forces and added:

Long Range

"That's the President's position, too. We think we have a more fundamental plan — a long range plan. We see no reason for changing it at this time."

Russell made it plain that he disagreed with the defense secretary and said he feels there is "a substantial reason" for a "very close re-examination" of the manpower cuts.

Meanwhile, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, told a House Armed Services Subcommittee that the nation's reserve forces "continue in an unacceptable state of readiness, unable to reach combat effectiveness within any period likely to be available to us."

Ridgway, who has openly opposed the President's decision to reduce the Army's personnel strength, said that in the event of all-out war, it would take about 10 months before reserves could become effective combat troops.

The general said the administration's new reserve program is aimed at cutting this period in half, but that "full implementation" of the plan would take four to five years.

Russell, after hearing the testimony of Wilson and Radford, said that if Russia and Red China mean what they have been saying in blasts accusing the U.S. of "aggression," it means "all-out war."

He added, however, that he does not believe the Soviets are ready for a global conflict.

Other Democrats on the Armed Services Committee joined Russell in demanding a searching look at the proposed reductions.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), said the administration "seems to have its back up" against making any change in its military strength proposals despite the developments in Moscow and the Far East.

Cold To Follow 'Near Blizzard'

Chilly 5 To 15 Degree Weather To Hold

Blowing snow, moving in after a cold wave sent Nebraska temperatures skidding downward, caused near blizzard conditions in some parts of the state Wednesday.

Winds traveling at 25 to 30 miles an hour, with gusts to 40, shifted heavy snow across highways and open spaces. The snow was heavy at many spots.

Heavy blowing snow was described by the State Patrol of blizzard proportions in the Beatrice area. The snow was heavy at Nebraska City late Wednesday as the storm swallowed the last part of the state—the southeast.

The storm hit Lincoln about 9 p.m., continuing into the early morning. Omaha had winds and heavy snow.

Diminish And Cold

Thursday's forecasts called for the storm to continue, but gradually diminish as the day wore on.

But the cold temperatures were to hold. Highs for the day were predicted to range in a chilly ten-point area between 5 and 15 degrees.

David City reported heavy snow that was drifting badly. Other points where snow was falling late Wednesday were:

Grand Island, snow and blowing snow; North Platte, light snow and blowing; Imperial, blowing snow; Chadron, blowing snow; Norfolk, light snow; Broken Bow, blowing snow.

Police described blizzard conditions at Hastings, with heavy snow and strong winds. McCook was pictured in a blizzard area by the State Patrol.

At Holdrege, the storm caught 300 persons attending a South Platte United Chambers of Commerce meeting and delayed their trips home.

The storm began in the northwest. Chadron and Merriam had between 4 and 5 inches of new snow Wednesday.

Visibility on U.S. 20 between the two towns was bad as winds of 20 miles an hour and higher blasts caused a great deal of drifting in spots.

Farther east, Valentine had 2 inches of snow early Wednesday night.

Late Wednesday a driving snow storm was in progress at Sidney, with a wind velocity of 30 to 32 miles per hour.

The temperature dropped from 47 degrees shortly before noon to 16 at 4:30 p.m. as the cold front moved into the southern Panhandle.

The cold, predicted at around zero for Wednesday night, is expected to last through Thursday with highs of only 5 to 10 degrees in the northeast and near 15 in the southwest.

But the snow is expected to diminish to flurries Thursday as skies clear over the state.

The wintry onslaught ended warmer temperatures which had been thawing much of Nebraska's substantial snow cover.

Lincoln Checker Player Wins Cup Donated By Him

HOLDREGE, Neb. (P) — A. M. Voss, Lincoln, who entered his first state checker tourney in 1902, is the new Nebraska champion and for the year holds the championship cup he himself donated to the State Association. It was his first championship.

Voss won in an odd manner. He played Ernest Clay, Holdrege, in one semi-final and took one game while drawing three with Clay.

In the other semi-final Ray Atkin of St. Lobory, beat Frank Greer, Holdrege, three games to one. But before a final round could start between Voss and Atkins a storm warning went out for the area and Atkins decided to hurry home instead of play.

The storm, incidentally, at least temporarily marooned some 300 people who came here for a South Platte United Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Retesting Of Drivers Called For

Physical Handicaps, Violations Would Bring Re-Examinations

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Physical handicaps that would make a person incapable of properly driving a motor vehicle or a long record of traffic offenses would be cause for summoning the person to be re-examined for an operator's license under a bill sent to general file Wednesday, LB 229, which gives greater scope to the motor vehicle division, was advanced by the government committee by a 5 to 2 vote.

Representatives of the Lancaster-Lincoln Safety Council and Nebraska's Optometric Association urged passage as a "step in the right direction." A bill for periodic re-examinations has been introduced.

The division's only power for examination at present is under the "point system" for violations or a derogatory court record, Owen Boyles, director, told the committee.

Milo Johnson of the Safety Council said many persons with physical handicaps are responsible for accidents. "We've got to take care of these people if they won't take care of themselves," he said.

Assessment Foreclosure

The committee also heard representatives of first class cities speak in behalf of LB 115 that will permit foreclosure when paving assessments are delinquent for two years. It was sent to general file.

Mayor Milton Ebers of Fremont pointed out that the city pays for intersection paving and that delinquencies were an unfair burden on the taxpayers of the city.

Fremont City Attorney George Svoboda said that since the war delinquencies have mounted to $19,000 and that in the last two years paving districts have been created in greater numbers than ever before.

The government committee also sent to general file LB 8 which was heard several days ago. It provides for licensing of trailer courts outside cities by the counties. It was opposed by court operators at the hearing as double taxation.

The committee indefinitely postponed LB 44 which would take off the present 75 cents per hour pay given election officials in city elections and permit councils to fix the pay rate in counties of less than 60,000 population. C. E. Beals, representing the Nebraska League of Municipalities, said the present rate is too high for smaller towns to pay.

The committee sent to general file LB 206 making it necessary for first and second class cities to mail notices of rezoning hearings to all property owners affected.

Also sent to general file was LB 107 which permits the state to use gas tax funds to maintain utility bridges. L. N. Resstater, engineer, said Nebraska had agreed with adjoining states to maintain the bridges but no funds are available.

U.S. Wants Peace, But Remains Alert

Invitation To Zhukov Is Possible

Ike Says Kremlin Shakeup Results Not Yet Apparent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared Wednesday America will remain alert and continue to pursue peace through strength in the face of a Soviet shakeup he interpreted as an expression of internal "dissatisfaction."

In a spur of the moment reply to a news conference query, Eisenhower also said he would not hesitate to consult his advisers—"if we found it desirable"—on the question of inviting his old friend, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, to visit the United States.

What the top-level reshuffling in Moscow means to the world, the President said, "won't be apparent for some time." He said it doesn't necessarily signify a tougher policy toward the United States, since the Russians "would say anything that would suit their purposes at the moment of a great significant change of this kind in their government."

No Proof Yet

Nor, he said, is there any proof that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was right in claiming that this country now is the laggard in atomic weapons as a result of Russian success in developing the hydrogen bomb.

Tuesday's realignment at the Kremlin brought the resignation of Premier Georgi Malenkov and his replacement by Defense Minister Nikolai Bulganin, an advocate of building up heavy industry that is the basis for war production. Wednesday, Marshal Zhukov, with whom Eisenhower established friendly relations in Berlin at the close of World War II, was named to Bulganin's former post as defense minister.

Under questioning, Eisenhower noted that he and Zhukov "developed personally a practice of getting along and seeing eye to eye" on local problems in Berlin back in 1945. He said this was an effort to set a pattern for showing that "two nations could get along if they would both recognize the folly of not getting along."

Twice Invited

When a reporter remarked that Zhukov has been quoted as saying Eisenhower twice invited the marshal to visit the United States and that Zhukov still dreams of doing so, the President said the invitations were at the direction of the U.S. government.

Asked whether the invitation still is open, Eisenhower appeared to be a bit startled at first, paused, and then replied:

"Well, as a matter of fact, this is the first time it has been mentioned to me since I have been in my present responsible post. And you can well imagine that I wouldn't stand here and suddenly issue an invitation without consulting my advisers."

With a larger than usual turnout of 230 reporters on hand, the news conference revolved largely around Zhukov and the switches in the Soviet high command.

On these and other subjects, Eisenhower said that:

Idle To Guess
1. It would be "idle to speculate" on a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait since Red China rejected a United Nations bid to discuss one and "issued a very bellicose statement."

2. Evacuation of the Chinese Nationalist Tachen Islands under the guns and planes of the U.S. 7th Fleet is proceeding "exactly according to plan" and should be completed soon if nothing happens. He said there had been no untoward incident, although one American plane got a little lost, wandered into a bad area, and got hit.

3. It would be for the United States to decide whether to use nuclear weapons for the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores Islands.

Zhukov, Ex-Fur Worker, New Soviet Defense Head

He Personifies Rise In Political Influence Of The Communist Army

By TOM WHITNEY
(AP Foreign Staff)

Georgi Konstantinovich Zhukov, a man for whom President Eisenhower has expressed respect and warm feelings, is entering a new stage of a brilliant career. He has risen from fur worker to minister of defense.

Zhukov

He shoulders his new responsibilities at a time when the government of Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin is emphasizing war preparedness for the Soviet Union.

Most foreigners with experience in the Soviet Union consider Marshal Zhukov to be the most popular Soviet citizen. He comes to his new job at a time when apparently the Army has risen—in the presence of disagreements within the Communist leadership—to a high point. Zhukov personifies this influence.

Peasant Stock

Marshal Zhukov is from peasant stock. He was born 59 years ago in a village about 60 miles outside Moscow. This village of Osadko-Zavodsky has a bust of him, erected there only after Stalin's death removed the shadow of jealousy and suspicion which the capricious dictator had cast over Zhukov's postwar career.

When Zhukov was 11 his parents moved to Moscow. They could not afford to give him much schooling. He worked in a fur finishing shop sewing and draping sable skins for Moscow's upper classes.

World War I put him in the Army of the Czar. He was detailed to the 10th regiment of the Novgorod Dragoons and soon became a noncommissioned officer. He became a hero. He led sorties behind the German lines and won four high military decorations for bravery.

When the Revolution came, Zhukov joined the Red army and the Communist party. After that war he chose to stay in the army. He entered a Soviet military academy but did not finish it. He studied for a time later on in a cavalry officers' school but did not finish that either. However at this time academic attainments were not those most valued by the Soviet leadership in its Army officers. It was more important that they have working class origin and owe everything to the new Communist regime. Zhukov suited this formula well and he advanced in officer ranks. He worked hard at being a good Communist.

Big Chance

Zhukov's big chance for advancement came when the Stalin purge eliminated most top-ranking members of the officer corps in 1937. Men like Zhukov who survived received rapid promotions.

Zhukov sprang into national prominence in the Soviet Union for the first time before World War II. On the plains of the Soviet satellite state of Outer Mongolia in 1939 he commanded Soviet forces charged with repulsing large Japanese forces which had been sent to feel out the Russian defenses. He gave the Japanese a licking which they did not quickly forget.

Zhukov played a key role in the Soviet command during the Finnish War in 1939-40. He won the title of army general in June, 1940. In February, 1941, he was named chief of the general staff of the Soviet army and deputy commissar (minister) of defense. In the same month he was elected a candidate member of the Central Committee of the Communist party. Zhukov was chief of staff when war struck in June, 1941.

He has been given much of the credit for the most famous operations of the Soviet army during the war—the defense of Moscow, the liberation of Stalingrad and later of Leningrad, the capture of Berlin.

Eat Dessert First, Salad Last, Says Lincoln Dentist

CHICAGO (AP)—A dentist who has studied diets among primitive Eskimos suggested Wednesday that Americans reverse their eating habits to prolong the life of their teeth.

Eat your dessert first and save the salad until last, Dr. Carl J. Henkelmann of Lincoln, Neb., advised at the Chicago Dental Society's annual midwinter meeting.

To preserve one's teeth, Dr. Henkelmann said in an interview, a person should end a meal with a protective food—raw fruit or vegetables—which help clean off sugar deposits, the principal cause of cavities.

The dentist said his advice was based on a study of primitive Eskimos who later turned to the white man's diet.

He said a 1950 study of 70 Eskimos at Anaktuvuk Pass, Alaska, before white traders moved into the territory, showed none with even a single cavity. All were living on native foods, mainly meat.

In 1954, after white traders had begun supplying the Eskimos with sugar and flour, Dr. Henkelmann said, a check of 22 persons found in the Eskimo settlement when he visited there showed 10 still free of cavities and 12 with a total of 69 cavities.

Budget Unit To Visit Institutions

Budget committee members of the Legislature plan to leave Friday, weather permitting, to visit state institutions, Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh, chairman, said Wednesday.

They will first inspect the Training School for Girls at Geneva and then the Hastings State Hospital. Saturday they will visit the Kearney Teachers College, Boys' Training School and Hospital for Tuberculosis.

Enroute back they will visit the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Grand Island and the Women's Reformatory at York. They will return to Lincoln Sunday.

Union College Approves Plan For $500,000 Women's Dorm

The Union College Board of Trustees has approved preliminary plans for a new women's residence hall, on which construction will begin in March of 1956. The structure will cost about $500,000 and will house 230 women students.

The board also voted to assume $30,000 of the cost of a new elementary school building to be built by the College View Seventh-day Adventist Church. The school is estimated to cost $100,000.

The new women's residence hall is to be similar in architecture to the recently-completed men's residence, and is the second in a series of three buildings to be built. The third will be an administration building, but no time for construction for that has been set.

The building will be of modern fire-proof brick construction, four stories high. The home economics department will be housed in the building.

In regard to the elementary school, the college board of trustees made a series of recommendations to the church, which is expected to meet some time next week to set final plans for the structure.

Reciprocal Plan

The college board recommended that:

The school be operated by the church, but that teacher training privileges be granted to the college;

The college donate the use of a site for the building;

The board of the school consist of the church pastor, the school principal, six members from the church and three members from the college.

A committee was appointed to work out details of the church-college arrangement. Members are V. S. Dunn, business manager, Dr. E. M. Cadwallader, director of teacher training; Dr. E. B. Ogden, dean of the college, and four members to be appointed from the church.

Members of a church steering committee currently working on plans for the school are: Dr. E. P. Heinrich, chairman; Harvey Zeelan, Mrs. Wallace Croak, Mrs. D. S. Rausten, L. W. Wasemiller, Harold Barsham, and Ned Saunders.

Other actions by the college board included approval of the shortened nursing program, changing of the B. S. degree in various fields to one B. S. degree only, approval of the annual budget of $1,250,000, and re-election of the faculty.

Millionaire's Wife Is Slain In Ax Attack

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—The elderly wife of a millionaire financier was slain by an ax-wielding assailant Wednesday in her $200,000 mansion.

Mrs. Katie Hayden, 71, died soon after she was found on the kitchen floor, bleeding from four head wounds.

The Hayden home is across the street from the former home of Virginia Hill, where gambler Benjamin (Bugsie) Siegel was slain June 20, 1947.

Mrs. Hayden's husband, Samuel, president of investment and developing companies bearing his name, had left for work prior to 9:30 a.m., when a maid said Mrs. Hayden went to answer the kitchen doorbell.

Found Dying

Ten minutes later the telephone rang. It was for Mrs. Hayden. The maid, Mrs. Peggy King, searched for Mrs. Hayden and found her dying, she told police.

Detectives said they were seeking a former man servant.

The hand ax which apparently inflicted the wounds was found in the kitchen.

News Around The Globe

Col. Dunn Guilty

LAREDO, Tex. (INS) — Col. Robert V. G. Dunn, former commander of the maintenance and supply group at Laredo Air Force Base, was found guilty Wednesday of 10 of the 19 specifications at his general court martial trial.

Col. Dunn faced a maximum sentence of 11 years and 11 months at hard labor, but he was fined only $1,800. The veteran Air Force officer was charged with flying enlisted men to Harrisburg, Pa. to work on half track vehicles which were used on his farm near Kokomo, Ind.

Still Expecting

DELaware, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Bernard Schnees, who's "feeling fine," is going to become a mother for the second time within a period of two months.

The rare medical case was reported here both by Mrs. Schnees and her family physician, Dr. James G. Parker. Mrs. Schnees, 35, gave birth Jan. 28 to a 3-pound, 12½-ounce son, Douglas Lee, believed by her physician to be the twin of the child expected March 22.

Threat To TB

ATLANTA (AP)—Medical researchers reported the discovery and apparently successful trial of a new drug that exerts "a powerful anti-tuberculosis effect."

Three New York clinicians who have tested the new antibiotic, called cycloserine, told physicians from throughout the nation that in 11 of the 37 patients tested, all apparent traces of tuberculosis bacilli were removed.

Crashes Kill 4

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP) — Two United States Air Force F95 Starfire jet fighters crashed Wednesday 16 miles from Goose Bay Airport in Labrador and the four crew members were killed.

U. S. Northeast Air Command headquarters here said the jets burned in the bushland east of the big Labrador terminal. They were on routine flights.

3 Firemen Killed

MUNCIE, Ind. (INS) — Three firemen were killed and a fourth was injured seriously Wednesday when a brick wall collapsed on them as they were fighting a raging fire at a Muncie paper factory.

One Injured In 3-Car Accident

JUVIA ADAMS, 60, of 3333 N was hospitalized Wednesday with a hip injury following a three-car mishap at 28th and Randolph. Her condition was reported as "satisfactory."

Miss Adams, a school nurse, was driving west on Randolph, when she observed a car driven by Mrs. L. N. Oswald, 49, of 602 So. 31st, approaching the intersection from the north, and braked her car, according to police.

The Adams car skidded on some ice and collided with a third vehicle driven by Henry Lorenz Jr., 28, of 888 Elmwood, who police said was coming from the east, as well as the Oswald vehicle which was partially in the intersection.

School Board's Plans For 34 Primary Classrooms In Works; Others To Start

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Plans should be completed and approved by the Board of Education within the next 30 days for the construction of the addition of 34 classrooms to four elementary schools.

Superintendent of Schools Steven N. Watkins stated that approval by the voters of the $10 million school bond issue will keep those projects going and start the wheels turning on others. Architects are already at work on the 34 new classrooms.

These first additions under the $10 million program will be made as follows:

Four room addition to Randolph. Six room addition to Huntington. Twelve room addition to Belmont.

Twelve room addition and kindergarten at Holmes.

Merle Beattie First

The first work to be done under the new program will be construction of the second addition to Merle Beattie. A $143,780 contract had been awarded by the Board on this project pending the outcome of the election.

The Randolph and Huntington additions are to be completed for the next fall school term with Holmes and Belmont scheduled to be done for the second semester of that year.

Following close on the heels of those projects will be the acquisition of land near 40th and South for construction of a new primary school there. Scheduled to get underway this summer is an eight room addition plus kindergarten and library at Hawthorne.

Also to start this summer is the remodeling of the College View High School into an elementary unit and connecting it up with the existing elementary school. High school students from this area will attend the new Southeast High at 37th and Van Dorn.

Other new schools planned under the program are a new elementary unit at 74th and Vine and a primary unit at 50th and Benton. There is no time schedule on those two or the possible new elementary school in Eastridge addition east of Cotner Blvd.

The Board will officially canvas the vote in Tuesday's election beginning Friday with the count being completed a week from Friday. According to Watkins, the bonds will be sold probably some time in April.

The bond issue was approved Tuesday by a more than two to one majority of 11,222 to 4,921 against.

Bing Going Home

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby goes home from the hospital Thursday, three weeks after an operation for removal of a kidney stone.

Surviving are her sisters, Mrs. Rex C. Allen of Nampa, Ida, and Mrs. Gertrude Kimball of Lodi, Calif., and brothers, Clarence of Albany, Wis., and Mahlon L. of Walker, Minn.

V.P. In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (INS) — Vice President Richard Nixon arrived in Mexico City Wednesday with "warm and respectful" greetings from President Eisenhower to Mexican President Ruiz Cortines.

Nixon, who flew to Mexico from Havana on his month-long tour of the Caribbean and Central America, said that President Eisenhower's greetings also went to the Mexican people. The vice president later visited with President Cortines and was then feted at a reception at the American Embassy.

Surplus Up For Standard Reliance Co.

A 25 per cent increase in surplus in 1954 was reported at the 57th annual meeting of policyholders of Standard Reliance Insurance Company.

President O. D. Trombla reported the gain in surplus reaches a new high of $650,000, an increase of $128,779 over 1953. Voluntary reserves set aside for contingencies total $48,344. Assets as of Dec. 31, 1954, were $1,936,012, an increase of $133,677 over the previous year, a 7.4 per cent increase.

President Trombla reported a 5.8 per cent gain in premium income over 1953, reaching a new high of $1,540,865 in gross premiums. After deducting reinsurance the company hit a new high of net premiums of $1,341,520, or a 3.8 per cent increase over the previous year.

The company's total admitted assets include $1,016,077 in government bonds and $269,143 in cash, a total in government bonds and cash of 66 per cent. Other investments include $385,882 in other bonds, preferred and common stocks. Of the total assets the company has $1,401,959 in investments. In addition, the home office building and ground at 13th and J are valued at $124,395.

The company operates in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Wyoming, New Mexico and Colorado. President Trombla said the company plans during 1955 to expand in other territories.

School Bonds Postponed

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Scottsbluff will not have a school bond election April 5 in conjunction with the regular city election. School board members have tabled action on selection of an architect because of federal school construction legislation now pending in Congress. It is felt that the city should wait to see whether federal aid will be available.

One Lesson Well Learned

To older Nebraska citizens a story from Massachusetts stirred up memories—possibly not too tasteful ones.

The Massachusetts story is one of politics, the power of a name and the confusion that results from duplication.

Everyone knows Joseph P. Kennedy the Massachusetts figure who was U.S. Ambassador to England during the late 'thirties. And quite a few know his son, John P. Kennedy, an illustrious second edition who followed his father into politics and is now U.S. senator from the Bay State.

There is another John P. Kennedy who is a stockroom keeper in a Massachusetts razor blade factory. This John P. Kennedy, of eminent name, filed for state treasurer in 1952, spent little if any campaign money and time. But he received 86,000 votes and ran second in a field of seven.

That was such a good showing that he filed again in 1954 for same office. This time he rolled up more than a million votes, outran the Democratic candidates for lieutenant governor and attorney general. And he has the nomination.

The Massachusetts story of the power of a name is simply interesting and for all we know quite harmless and well-intentioned.

It was not that way in the 'thirties in Nebraska when a grocery clerk with similar name was induced to run for the office of U.S. senator held so effectively by the late Sen. George W. Norris. Political enemies of the latter hoped by the confusion of names to bring about the defeat of Nebraska's popular representative. That was not a simple story, harmless and well-intentioned. Rather it marked a historic low point in a normally clean, gallant political Nebraska.

Fortunately the people were not misled. They smashed the plot and thumpingly renominated Sen. Norris.

One does not look back to that episode with pride. But of it can be said this: By failing, it demonstrated that Nebraska voters would not put up with chicanery. The plotters never returned for a second performance.

Scarcity Or Surplus?

Probably Secretary Benson would say America does not need to find itself confronted with one of two extremes—either a punishing scarcity or an overabundance of food.

Back of the strange happenings in Russia as the news of a governmental reshuffle seeps from Moscow, Drew Pearson says that the trouble occupying the Kremlin is of an internal character, a shortage of food. Russia's preoccupation with strengthening its military establishment temporarily glosses over the fact that the average Russian was not eating enough to satisfy his hunger and particularly had found it impossible to obtain the items of food so vital to him. There is, Pearson says, a shortage of wheat in Russia. The Russian is not a white-bread eater. He depends upon black bread. But the black bread upon which he relies calls for a certain amount of wheat.

Here we are, running around in circles and wringing our hands because we have too much food, and particularly we have too much wheat. The Russian has too little, if Drew Pearson has gotten at the heart of internal troubles in Russia. In spite of all efforts to step up production, Russia's agricultural planning has been a flop, the food so vital to the Russian people and to those masses within the Russian orbit conspicuously lacking.

Maybe the greatest wisdom Americans can display will be to recognize that at least a reasonable overabundance of food can be turned into an asset instead of a liability. Russia had the best in soil to develop an agriculture. We have and we always have had the know-how for mass food production. It has been our good fortune, also to possess adequate land adapted to fill our food needs that has placed us in the position we occupy. Young, energetic, well fed and happy within reason, food has been a big part in the American story. Russia has the land and not the know-how. With equal know-how, it would have been possible for Russia to have satisfied the wants of its people.

Here in front of our eyes is another instance which suggests that here in the United States perhaps we should be willing to drop our emphasis on farm surpluses and to offer up thanks for our good fortune. That which we condemn actually is a source of great strength to us.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Lincoln's Board of Education had a resounding vote of confidence Wednesday. By more than two to one at a special election, school patrons and taxpayers gave their emphatic approval to a $10 million bond issue, general obligation bonds, a lien against property, largest issue of its kind ever submitted in this community. The bonds are to finance additional school facilities.

The vote was in itself an expression of pride on the part of the people of Lincoln, not only pride but a determination to make educational facilities available for the youngsters in Lincoln which are equal or superior to those found in other communities. It is true that only slightly more than 16,000 out of an estimated 30,000 eligible voters took the time and trouble to appear at the polls. That is 3,000 fewer than the 19,000-plus who marked ballots when the board requested approval of a previous $6 million bond issue for physical plant expansion for the Lincoln schools. The thought had been that by submitting the present $10 million building program at a special election, there would be less possibility of confusion in the issue and a larger turnout. It simply did not work out that way. A lot of people for one reason or another did not vote, but those who did gave unmistakable proof of their confidence in the Board of Education, and even more, said in positive tones that something had to be done about this growing shortage of schoolrooms, a shortage resulting from a more rapid growth in population than progress in providing additional schoolrooms to accommodate it. The voters said educational facilities must keep pace with population growth. That is the real story back of Tuesday's election.

Approval of the bond places a heavier responsibility on the shoulders of the board members for careful long-range planning. It was an admirable view expressed by Mrs. Roscoe Hill, the board's president, who pointed out that construction itself does not take place overnight, that a long-range view is very vital to intelligent expenditure of the money, and the board has no intention to spend funds in areas which do not develop need for additional facilities.

In rather loose outline at this time, it appears that the bond proceeds will be used to construct four or possibly five new buildings, but in the main the money will be spent upon additions to existing facilities. That makes sense. The board will find it possible to stretch the revenue derived through this bond issue if it avoids impetuous decision or hasty action and gives long careful thought to each step taken to determine that the step itself fits in with the educational needs. There is no money to be tossed around loosely. By its votes, the community is on record as having complete confidence in the board that every dollar spent will contribute full value to Lincoln's public school system. The board got what it asked. Responsibility now is on its members to see to it that the people of Lincoln get what they think they are going to get by going in debt to the tune of $10 million.

Incidentally, the school bond issue carries assurance that current high construction activity in Nebraska's capital may be anticipated to continue for some time to come. There is enough of it in the hopper to keep hands busy for a period of years.

Pride In The System

30,000 eligible voters took the time and trouble to appear at the polls. That is 3,000 fewer than the 19,000-plus who marked ballots when the board requested approval of a previous $6 million bond issue for physical plant expansion for the Lincoln schools. The voters said educational facilities must keep pace with population growth. That is the real story back of Tuesday's election.

Bulk Of Revenue For Expansion

Approval of the bond places a heavier responsibility on the shoulders of the board members for careful long-range planning. It was an admirable view expressed by Mrs. Roscoe Hill, the board's president, who pointed out that construction itself does not take place overnight, that a long-range view is very vital to intelligent expenditure of the money, and the board has no intention to spend funds in areas which do not develop need for additional facilities.

Rather Unimportant

The nation could have gotten along well enough without a report on the extensiveness of the mambo, but a national poll organization undertook one anyway.

It found that 1,100,000 papas love mambo while 1,400,000 mamas love mambo.

This leaves us all a little confused. How come there are 300,000 more women in this mambo-loving business than male dancing partners? Our only suggestion at this moment, without another poll, is that the missing 300,000 represents the smaller women who get thrown off at a quick turn and haven't yet found their way back to the dance floor.

DREW PEARSON

Hunger, Unrest Is Back Of Red Change

WASHINGTON — Here is how the 'diplomats view Moscow's latest political turnover:

As far as the U.S.A. is concerned it's a two way street. Nikita Khrushchev, the new backstage dictator of Russia, is vigorously anti-American, much more belligerent than the placid, flabby Malenkov. But the reason for the turnover is serious unrest inside Russia. Purges in various Soviet republics have not been headlined in the press but they've been important. Part of them were to weed out Marshal Beria's followers; part to stamp out unrest. . . . Malenkov's appeasement of the masses by giving them more food, more consumer goods, did not work. Unrest continued. Now Khrushchev will try sterner methods. He will gird for possible war, but more optimistic diplomats believe he can't possibly afford one.

Heart of the Soviet problem is food. While the U.S.A. is teeming with surpluses, Russia faces probable shortages. The climax is expected in May when there may be starvation in some areas. . . . Whereas the U.S. now has only one-sixth of its population working as farmers, Russia has 50 per cent farming. Yet the U.S.A. produces far more than the USSR. . . . The reason is farm machinery, better weather, better drying conditions, better know-how, almost everything except better soil. It would be hard to beat the rich loam of the Russian steppes. . . . It was Dictator Khrushchev who started the campaign to increase farm production. His idea was to lure young Russians into settling on virgin farm land, also to build up "agro cities"—in other words, collective farms centered around urbanized communities. . . . Khrushchev proposes using Henry Wallace's hybrid corn, American farm methods. He wants the USSR to increase its population from 200,000,000 to 300,000,000, but knows this is impossible unless Russia can raise more food. It was to increase the population that he imposed a heavy tax on bachelors and couples with few children. . . . Though Khrushchev initiated this program, Malenkov was officially in charge. It's been a failure. . . . first, Russia has lacked the tractors and farm machinery. Second, the Russian peasant lacks the know-how. He breaks up equipment, has no mechanical knack, seems to think farm machinery can run without oil.

Khrushchev waves flag—The new Russian backstage dictator has been so belligerent against the USA and the West that his remarks actually have been toned down by the Soviet press. Speaking at Prague June 15, 1954, Khrushchev quoted Lenin as saying: "As long as the capitalist encirclement lasts it will be very difficult and complicated to come to an agreement." . . . Then Khrushchev proceeded to go much further than Lenin, as follows: "One must be strong in order to coexist with the enemy. We have given to our country atomic energy. We have given it the atom bomb. We even were ahead of the capitalist class and created the hydrogen bomb before they did. We know that the bourgeois politicians are irresponsible chatterers. They believe they can scare us, but nothing can frighten us because we know as well as they what a bomb is." . . . But when the speech appeared in Pravda on June 16, 1954, it was watered down as follows: "In the beginning the enemies of

DORIS FLEESON

Educators Skeptical Of Ike's Program

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's school aid program does not represent a serious attempt to deal with the national emergency in education.

It is little more than a letter of condolence to the localities and school authorities which are struggling against an enormous and growing shortage of classrooms.

The President's own commissioner of education, Samuel Brownell, has placed the current need at 37,000 classrooms. Federal cost estimates indicate that the job well done would cost more than $12 billions.

The President has suggested only $200 million in direct aid over three years which is about $65 million a year. Even if all went well and exactly as planned, it would build only a few thousand of the missing classrooms.

School authorities are equally skeptical about the proposed plans to help school districts and states. Twenty states are said to have constitutional debt limits which will prevent any new borrowing. In both Maine and Wisconsin, the courts have declared school construction authorities unconstitutional.

The school experts say also that it would be at least a year before any results would show from the Eisenhower plan. Meanwhile, school enrollment is going up at a rate of more than a million a year. This year it is 30.8 million—up 22 per cent, over 1950.

The President's philosophical approach provokes as much gloom in school circles as his practical suggestions. As they see it he has dealt with what they regard as the gravest internal crisis in this democdisarmament and the enemies of ruling out A-weapons declared that the Soviet Union made such proposals only because she had neither the A-bomb nor the H-bomb. Now that we have the A-bomb and had even created the H-bomb before the others, we have submitted the proposal to make a solemn obligation not to use weapons of this kind—not because we are weak, but because we are really serious with our peace policy in the interests of the working masses."

U.S. embassy predicted—This time American officials were not caught as short as when Marshal Beria was purged. They knew upheaval was in the wind but didn't figure it would come quite so soon. Ambassador Bohlen had wired the State Department that Malenkov and Khrushchev were watching each other so closely that neither one would leave town. . . . One sign pointing to a change was a piece which appeared in the "Banner," a Moscow magazine, in May, 1954, referring to Malenkov as the "sparrow who could never learn to fly."

There were also changes in Russian magazines to rewrite history so as to give credit to Khrushchev for doing various things which he had absolutely nothing to do with. For instance, Russian history was rewritten to include him among those who reorganized the Red Army after the revolution of 1917 and who helped win World War II. Actually he had little to do with either, but Russian magazines carefully went out of their way to give him credit. . . . Premier Malenkov apparently was given his life in exchange for playing ball with Khrushchev. The Kremlin wanted to give the impression to the outside world that it had arranged an orderly transfer of authority. . . . The last purge created a bad impression.

Will Bulganin last?—Marshall Bulganin has been a friend of Premier Malenkov. That is one reason diplomats figure he won't last too long. They give him about six months. Then he can be made the scapegoat today. . . . Bulganin got his training as a political commissar attached to the Red Army. While he is close to the Army, he is not a military man. . . . Chief danger to the United States is that the new dictators will use the bogeyman of the USA to divert attention from unrest inside Russia. Khrushchev needs unity at home and the best way to get it would be by insulting the U.S. over China and Formosa. . . . The Red Army also has some new fighting equipment that it would like to try out. So there is definite danger that Russia might permit Communist China to push the Formosan crisis up to the point of limited war. . . . Diplomats believe the Kremlin doesn't want full-scale war but would be delighted to have another Korea whereby the Chinese can lose their manpower and bear the brunt of the fighting. The Russians want them to try out the new equipment and watch the USA win more ill will in Asia.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Just before he left on his Caribbean tour, Vice President Nixon told one of his closest friends that President Eisenhower does not intend to run for a second term. Nixon said the President will resist any move to draft him on the ground that he is not the indispensable man and that a young, vigorous candidate can win for the Republicans.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

A 'Smoke-Eater' Calls It A Day

By ALLEN EDEE

Star Staff Writer

Smoky, the Blue Furred fire-fighter, has retired.

Gone are the days when he came out of a smoke-filled building hacking and coughing like a veteran fireman.

No more does Smoky jump on a fire engine, climb up on the seat beside the driver and ride to the alarm with ears flapping in the wind, looking to the right and left.

Now he sits and sleeps in the home of Mrs. Alice Mills of 1627 So. 8th. But his bristly gray hair resembles the color of smoke, a reminder of his exciting earlier years.

His master, Buck Mills of 2538 So. 9th, no longer works at the College View station where the two started out on the fires.

Buck is a fireman at Station No. 1 at 10th and Q, while Smoky stays home with the fireman's mother. Smoky has had some big moments, though. The Mills remember the night that Smoky woke the house up at 2 a.m. with his barking.

The dog was told to keep still, but on he went, yapping, yapping in the wee hours of the morning. Finally sensing something wrong, the Mills investigated and found a neighbor's trailer on fire.

Smoky is content now simply to come over and visit Buck's two pretty girls for an evening. The girls, Linda, 5, and Susan, 8, both like to play with Smoky.

LINDA MILLS, SMOKY AND SUSAN . . . burning buildings and bunnies are two different things . . .

But at the end of the evening, Smoky stands by the front door, tired of all the strenuous exercise and ready for bed.

The fog would be a great hunter—except that he is afraid of rabbits. Buck says when he once shot a rabbit, Smoky went bounding up to the victim. The rabbit began brush-ing his nose and Smoky leaped away.

Smoky likes the pesky squirrels, though. He will jump halfway up a tree to chase one. The canine has never caught a squirrel, but he's not giving up. After nine years of squirrel-chasing, Smoky is confident the next squirrel he chases will be his.

Save The Pity

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your editorial (Feb. 8) was very f-u-n-n-y about raising the salaries of congressmen and senators. In the first place, who asks them to run (just try to keep them from it)? Take a gander at the number of men who filed in Nebraska, to say nothing of the women. Mrs. Abel spent nearly $8,000 to get the job for two months, and take a look at what Curtis and the others spent. When they can put out such money, they do not need their salaries raised.

A Monstrous Tale

Nothing can brighten a man's day quite as much as a rousing good monster.

Personally, I have always been a rabid fan of the Loch Ness one, so that I was happy to read the other day that the old fellow has survived whatever rigors monsters meet, and is still wiggling his slimy way through the turgid muck of his haunted lake bottom in good old Inverness-shire, doubtless scaring naughty Scots out of their appetite for haggis.

Mt. Everest's Abominable Snowman and India's occasional ape men are pretty good second rate monsters, and for lack of something better I can always spend a happy evening speculating on them, but for real top-drawer monster-type perfection you can't beat the old boy in Loch Ness. He just hasn't got any limitations, and limitations are something which are bound to cramp any monster's style.

For instance, here we have this latest report from Glasgow that the crew of a fishing trawler spotted the old timer on an ultra-modern echo-sounding device which is used for bouncing back sound waves from schools of fish and other underwater obstructions. What the sounding equipment showed, the fishermen said, was something about 50 feet long, with eight legs, a small head, an 18-foot tail and a body shaped like a scorpion's.

That is the loveable thing about the old monster. Down through the years, every description of him has left room for audience participation. You can take a rough outline like that and fill in with chartreuse scales, purple eyes and steam pouring from the nostrils.

Or, if you're a mind, you can put him down as a friendly old hulk just plugging away for companionship, but not knowing how to go after it. After all, he has never hurt anybody.

It has always been a matter of secret shame to me that our country has never produced a monster of the stature and good, sterling character of the Loch Ness variety. Not that we haven't tried on occasion, but due to some weakness in national fiber, ours have always turned out to be lost mountain lions or boa constrictors escaped from a circus.

About the closest approach we ever make to whipping up a good one is in election years, but there is no stability in that kind of effort. Every four years it's a different monster.

The nice thing about a whole-some, traditional sort of monster is that it gives you something to be scared of in a happy-go-lucky kind of way, without getting too serious about it.

A Correction

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In my letter published in the Saturday morning Star is the statement, "I enlisted for service in the Spanish-American War . . ."

It should have read "he" (MacArthur). I did not serve in that war.

Disease Prevention

Ainsworth, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We gladly support aggressive drives for funds to fight tuberculosis, cancer, and polio. But the disease more prevalent and far more costly than any of these is abetted, not fought, by most communication channels. Yet this most devastating disease is preventable without appeals for money, without costly research, rather at great saving for all citizens.

How? Simply abolish the disease production. That will add to the common wealth, save the public and the government many billions of dollars each year and, what is

Let There Be Light

Anselmo, Neb.

To the Editor of The Lincoln Star: I think The Star hit the nail on the head when it mentioned that Congress would likely vote themselves increased salaries without a roll call. It seems sometimes that our congressmen wish to shirk responsibility on some issues. If a congressman is convinced a certain thing is necessary, why not let his views be known? People do not like secrecy. We condemn those who take advantage of the Fifth Amendment. Isn't it much the same to say we want no one to know?

We condemn the Dixon-Yates contract because it was rather secret. We like to have things done in broad daylight. We are told that some love darkness instead of light because their deeds are evil, and our government above all else should be above reproach.

So if this raise in salaries is required, let there be a roll call. Maybe then they will not be objecting to social security and other things that help common people.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name Infrarub. The price of Infrarub is only 98¢ for a large tube. Infrarub is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Many To Witness Atom Blast Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big audience of state officials, civil defense workers and others will be invited to Nevada in mid-April to witness atomic explosion tests. The experiment will serve as a civil defense field exercise.

Plans for the program were announced jointly Wednesday by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission and Val Peterson, head of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

They said hundreds of civilian observers will be invited. These will include state governors, state and city civil defense officials and workers, and representatives of industry, the press, radio, television and motion pictures. The AEC said the number to be invited will be in keeping with space limitations.

One In Series
Strauss said there will be about a month advance announcement of the date for this April experiment. It will be one in a series of 1955 spring atomic tests due to start at the Nevada site within the next few days.

Strauss said that although plans are to hold the test in April an indefinite postponement may be necessary if weather conditions are not suitable.

Peterson said in the statement that about 350 civil defense volunteer and workers will take part in the first atomic civil defense field exercise. Aircraft of the Nevada wing of the Civil Air Patrol also will participate in some of the program. In the past military ground troops have been used in the drills.

Industry is co-operating with the government in advancing plans. The AEC and FCDA made public a list of 131 industries, companies, and associations taking part.

Among structures and equipment to be exposed to the nuclear detonation will be: Several residences, new types of shelters, steel and aluminum industrial buildings, food, communications and other commercial electronic equipment, and utility installations, including electrical and gas items.

Feb. 26 Vote

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Bundestag, lower house of parliament, scheduled Feb. 26 for a final vote on the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany. It was a smashing victory for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's plans for quick ratification.

The Bundestag's Steering Committee, undoubtedly influenced by the resignation of Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, agreed to the vote.

AFL, CIO Chiefs Predict Merged Unions In 1955

... Reuther, Meany Agree To End 20-Year Split; Organizing Drive Set

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL and CIO leaders Wednesday agreed to end the 20-year-old split in organized labor and merge into a single 15-million-member union federation.

George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Walter Reuther, head of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, predicted that necessary ratifications would be accomplished by the end of the year.

They said the powerful new union organization, not yet given a formal name, would immediately launch an all-out organizing drive to bring millions more workers into union membership.

"We are pooling our resources so we can take on the task of organizing the great mass of unorganized workers in America and build a greater industrial democracy," Reuther said.

The merger agreement was signed by two 10-man committees representing the rival union organizations.

Meany and Reuther said that welding together of their federations would bring about a stronger and more effective union movement in dealing with employers and in seeking to achieve political aims.

Greater Service
"It is our belief," they said in a joint statement, "that a united labor movement will be able to devote the talent and strength of our trade unions to greater service

Scouts Make Year's Report To Governor

Spokesmen from five Nebraska Boy Scout councils will make their annual report to the governor at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Senate Chambers in the Capitol.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson, a Scout enthusiast for years, is president of the Cornhusker Council, which has headquarters in Lincoln.

Five of the 33 Scouts from 33 districts in the five Nebraska councils will make the actual reports.

The others will view the ceremony while seated with the state senator from their districts.

The Kiwanis Club will honor the group at a noon luncheon. Alpha Sigma Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, Boy Scout fraternity, will take the boys on a tour of the University of Nebraska campus including a swim in the Coliseum pool.

Saturday morning the group will have an extensive tour of Lincoln featuring a pilgrimage to the statue of Abraham Lincoln on the Capitol grounds.

Six Oil, Gas Measures Go To Unicameral

Six measures sought by senators from Nebraska's oil and gas producing areas as an aid to development of the industry were reported out of judiciary committee Wednesday afternoon.

LB 35, setting up a special tier law applying to material and services going into drilling of an oil or gas well, was held for further study.

Bills reported out were: LB 36, reducing time for forfeiture of an oil or gas lease; LB 37, authorizing trustees of estates to enter into easement agreements with pipeline companies; LB 59, providing procedure for leasing estates for oil and gas development; LB 61, extending provisions for entering into pipeline agreements; LB 62, providing vested or contingent interests in oil rights; and LB 127, removing all limitations on oil development companies incorporated in other countries or having officers who are not United States citizens.

LB 60, relating to attachment of real estate where mineral rights are involved, was killed.

The oil bills were introduced by Sens. A. A. Fenske, Sunol; Donald McGinley, Ogallala; Otto Kottou, Humboldt; and D. J. Cole, Merriman.

The various measures were explained to the committee by a team of attorneys which included James D. Conway, Hastings; Paul L. Martin, Sidney; and James Motherhead of Scottsbluff. They were assisted by Daniel M. Bailey, Dallas, Tex., of the lien law committee of the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers' Association; and Howard Gullickson, from the Denver regional office of Shell Oil Co.

POSTCARD

At the end of my second day in Kitzbuehel, I felt as though someone had beaten me across the midsection with a baseball bat. At which point I took gloomily to bed. Checking out at 101 degrees on the thermometer and reading in the Paris Herald Tribune that "la grippe" was sweeping Europe.

Through the window I could see the skiers sliding merrily down the Austrian Alps. The witer brought me blood-red orange juice from the red African oranges and offered to bring in medical assistance. By the third day, I could totter down weakly to breakfast.

It was terribly embarrassing. All around me were the strong, silent skiers. Most of them on crutches or in splints, true.

But how more glamorous the splinted skier than the bent-over gent with the stomachache. The one in ski clothing, champing for a return to the snowy slopes. The other in a pea-green complexion, yearning for a return to the sack. No friends visited my bed to write funny sayings on my cast. And if anybody had tried to write a funny saying on my stomach, I would have risen and belted them through the window.

I honestly do not think I could have stood the weight of a ball point, I was that tender.

Whatever was sweeping Europe had rough bristles.

I am constantly maneuvering to look like a skier. Without getting onto skis, which, frankly, frighten me to death.

I like the uniform but cannot bear heights. Especially when someone proposes that I get on a pair of slippery boards and slide down to the bottom.

It is my idea when you want to get downhill, you go down sensibly. On steps.

And when you want to go up, you get on an elevator. I consider this a civilized viewpoint. Ski people do not think this. Ski people like to go schussing down the slippery snow. A mile-a-minute, like so many maniacs.

By and by, they bust a leg or turn an ankle. Then they sit around and second-guess the whole thing. Like grounded quarterbacks.

It certainly was discouraging. Wandering around the Tyrolean streets, clutching my aching mid-section.

I could imagine all the skiers sneering.

"He didn't get that stomachache doing a Sitzmark!"

As I warned the painful inner man with Grog mit der Jamaica Rum, the brave men with honest-to-goodness fractures spoke heartily of the snowy mishap that laid them low.

"I hit some powder and took an egg-beater."

It is very hard to be glamorous in such company. Could I say: "I ate some wiener schnitzel and came down with the most frightful ache known to man. I took a powder but it didn't do a bit of good."

This is some of the problem of being an indoor skier. An indoor skier is absolutely useless when felled by "la grippe."

He is a masquerader. A sheep in wolf's clothing. Bent in the middle. I haven't felt so foolish since I was treated at a first aid station for a case of jungle itch.

On the other hand, stomachs repair rapidly. And I shall soon be erect again while the brag-garts are limping along in the rear.

I am bent but not broken. And the next time I hit powder, it will be where I can see it through a warm window with two whole legs under me. Schuss!

State Conference For Youth Slated

A state-wide conference for youth will be held at the Cornhusker Hotel Feb. 25 under the sponsorship of the Nebraska Committee for Youth. Invitations to community leaders are being issued through the governor's office.

The conference goal will be an exchange of ideas on integration of programs and facilities in the local community in a concerted effort toward meeting the need of youth as he grows into a useful member of society.

A project involving more than 100 club leaders in Norfolk will demonstrate at the conference how this area is working together to eliminate competitive bids in planning for youth programs.

A featured speaker will discuss juvenile courts and probation systems with special emphasis on juveniles handled through police courts.

Dr. Frank A. Court is chairman of the Statewide Committee for Youth which includes equal representation from the four Congressional Districts.

Listen! They're talking about the new 1955 Mercury—

1. "Sure is big this year. And what a beautiful color."
2. "That new Montclair is certainly low and racy looking."
3. "I hear it's only 58½ inches high."
4. "198 horsepower! And dual exhausts!"
5. "Look at those hooded head lamps."
6. "I've never seen a better-looking wrap-around windshield."
7. "Lots more models this year. And 3 series."
8. "188 horsepower even in the lowest-cost Custom."
9. "Let's go in and get a closer look."

Here's the most talked-about car in Mercury history. And with good reason. For it's the most advanced car ever offered at anywhere near the price.

The 1955 Mercury is totally new in styling, size, and power. Longer, lower, bigger all over. Roomier inside. And with up to 198 horsepower under the hood.

You have your choice of 10 models in 3 series—including an entirely new series—the Mercury Montclair.

All 1955 Mercurys are powered by new SUPER-TORQUE V-8 engines—198 horsepower in the Montclair; 188 horsepower in the Monterey and Custom. And both the Montclair and Monterey have dual-exhaust systems—the only cars in their price class that offer this super power and economy feature at no extra cost. All models have new Full-Scope windshields and the latest in ball-joint suspension.

We invite you to stop in at our showroom for a road test. We want you to feel Mercury's new super pickup at every speed—particularly in the normal ranges where you do most of your driving. It's the biggest performance news in 1955. Try it. You'll be talking too.

Tot's Illness Tugs At Hearts Of Hay Springs Folks

5-Year-Old Girl Faces Months Of Hospitalization, Surgery

HAY SPRINGS, Neb. (P)—Before she was stricken a month ago with ravaging meningitis, 5-year-old Linda Lukens was the blonde belle of the Hay Springs kindergarten. Now only a 19-pound shadow of her former 40-pound self, the little girl is a patient at Denver's Childrens Hospital where specialists hold hope of ultimate recovery.

But months of hospitalization and surgery lie ahead for the little girl who survived a narrow brush with death in the initial stages of the disease.

Expensive Ordeal

The expense of the care and treatment—sometimes $100 a day—has been a blow to the little girl's parents, Jerry Lukens, her father, came here to operate a rural petroleum tank wagon after World War II in which he served with the Marines in the South Pacific.

To help the family meet Linda's medical bills, Lukens' fellow American Legionnaires launched a campaign for funds.

Others in the community have pitched in to help.

At an auction of food, a hamburger sandwich sold for $100 and cakes and pies at $25 and $50 apiece—all for Linda.

Fund At $1,200

The auction took place at a dance sponsored by the fire department's women's auxiliary. There have also been benefit basketball games and other events which have boosted the fund sponsored by the Hay Springs Legion post to $1,200.

Another World War II veteran who has figured prominently in Linda's fight for life is Dr. Bernard Owen who completed his medical training under the GI Bill and had come to Hay Springs only shortly before the girl became ill.

He saw her through the first crisis only to have a mastoid condition develop and then a brain abscess form. It was after that, that Linda was flown to Denver for treatment by specialists.

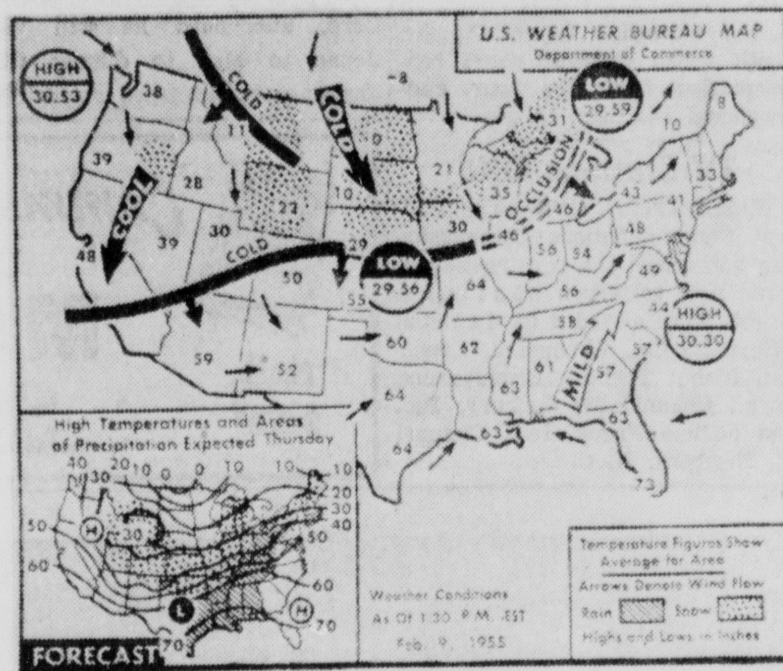

Omahan Is Elected MVA Group Head

ST. LOUIS (P)—The Mississippi Valley Assn. elected Wilbur A. Jones, Omaha, as chairman of the board. Jones is the retiring president and will be succeeded in that post by Walter C. Ploesser, St. Louis.

The association renewed its support of the use of existing federal agencies for the development of land and water resources of the Mississippi basin.

A long list of resolutions included one expressing opposition to the creation of any public works agency "which would consolidate or interfere" with existing agencies.

Reaffirming its opposition to federal regional valley authorities as a method of river basin control, the association said they "transcend state and local government and are not subject to sufficient control."

Winter Continues To Grip Parts Of U.S.

Snow and snow mixed with rain is forecast for Thursday in extreme northern New England, the northern Appalachians and the lower Great Lakes region. Snow is expected in sections of the central plains, central Rockies, Upper Great Lakes and central Mississippi Valley. Rain will fall in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys and there will be showers in the central and western gulf coast states. It will be much colder in the central plains and central Mississippi Valley and very cold in the southern plains. Temperatures will be mild in the Atlantic states. (AP Wirephoto).

State Deaths

Mrs. Anna Van Dyke, Minden, Is Dead

MINDEN—Funeral services were held here Wednesday for Mrs. Anna Van Dyke, 66, who died in a local hospital. Burial was in the cemetery at Upland. Surviving are three sons, Roy of Grand Island, Richard of Greeley, Colo., and Russell of Des Moines; three brothers, two sisters and seven grandchildren.

Mrs. A. M. Gray

COLUMBUS — Funeral services were held here for Mrs. Arthur M. Gray, 80, member of a pioneer Columbus family. She died unexpectedly at her home. After the death of her father, George Rickerts, an early day hotel owner here, Mrs. Gray was owner of the Thurston Hotel from 1919 to 1940. She was a member of Grace Episcopal Church and Grace Church Guild. Surviving are her husband, Mrs. William H. Cadwell of Evanston, Ill., one granddaughter, and one half-brother, George Whaley of Kenmore, N. Y.

Hubert J. Prichard

FALLS CITY — Funeral services were held here for Hubert J. Prichard, 83, pioneer automobile dealer and livestock raiser. A lifelong resident of Richardson County, he had been in failing health since suffering serious injuries in an auto accident in 1945. He was a member of the Brethren

Jury Turns Down Two Cross-Filed Suits

A Lancaster District Court jury has returned a verdict against both the plaintiff and defendant in a two-car accident suit.

Plaintiff Hubert Knapp of 1930 S had asked $10,500 for alleged injuries and property damage arising out of a two-car collision June 24, 1952, at 21st and P.

Defendant Vern Finley of 2211 P had sought $1,500 on a cross-petition alleging property damage.

Rites At Tecumseh For Miss Powers

Lincoln Star Special
TECUMSEH, Neb. — Graveside services for Miss Catherine Powers, 75, will be held at 12 noon Thursday at St. Andrews Cemetery here, the Rev. Francis Murphy officiating.

Miss Powers, who suffered from cancer, died at the home of her niece, Agnes Powers, in Kansas City where she had lived the past year.

Born in Elkhart, Ill., she came with her family to Johnson County about 1886.

Miss Powers had been a housekeeper for Catholic priests in the Lincoln Diocese.

Surviving are her brother, Ed Powers of North Platte, and a sister, Mrs. Mike Cooney of St. Marys, Neb.

Concordia Students To Attend Conference

SEWARD, Neb. — Fourteen students of Concordia Teachers College and Concordia High School at Seward will leave this week for St. Paul, Minn., to attend the annual Lutheran Student Government Conference.

The three-day meeting will be held on the campus of Concordia College at St. Paul.

Pender Eyes Rail Request With Concern

PENDER, Neb. (P)—Concern was expressed Wednesday at a railway commission hearing here that a railroad proposal to eliminate its agency at nearby Thurston would be the first step toward elimination of rail service to the town.

The railroad is the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha.

Alvin Merry and William Bates, both operators of lumber and grain firms in Thurston, emphasized their interest in maintaining sufficient railway service to meet the needs of their grain businesses.

Corn Stored

Charles E. Lewin of the Commodity Credit Corporation said 624,582 bushels of corn were stored at Thurston.

W. F. Wenke, president of the Pender State Bank, testified to an earlier "gentlemen's agreement" which he said covered rail service on the line.

Railway spokesmen said revenue assigned to the state for 1954 amounted to $10,072.57 while expenses were $3,408.41. The railroad proposes serving Thurston through its agent at Emerson.

Commissioner Paul Pettygrove took the request under advisement.

Gage Farmer Files Land Dispute Brief

A Gage County farmer Wednesday filed a brief, opposing a third hearing before the State Supreme Court in a land condemnation case.

The dispute dates back to 1949 when negotiations between Jesse B. Higgins and the Loup River Public Power District failed in the power company's effort to obtain an easement across Higgins' farm, located west of Beatrice.

Loup River filed a brief for a third hearing last week.

The power district brought suit against Higgins in a condemnation proceeding and won a favorable verdict in Gage County District Court.

The Supreme Court upheld the farmer's request for a new trial, but when the lower court took no action a second hearing was held. The Supreme Court again ordered a new trial last month.

Loup River filed a brief for a third hearing last week.

Nehru Urges Commies Not To Invade

LONDON (AP) — India's Premier Nehru appealed Wednesday to Red China to hold off on any attempt to invade Formosa.

Nehru told a news conference India and the great powers, including Russia, are exchanging ideas on how to end the China fighting. Among these is a suggestion for a Geneva-type conference outside the United Nations.

"But there is nothing definite," he added.

The Asian leader also said in reply to questions that he does not think the resignation of Georgi Malenkov as Soviet Premier is "likely to affect the foreign policy" of the Soviet Union.

Commenting upon Red China's recent threats to take Formosa by force as soon as possible, Nehru said:

"Personally, I always think force of this type should be avoided. Settlement should be peaceful even if it takes time."

Nehru said the explosive Formosa situation would be made worse if clashes took place in the Formosa Strait. "We must strive that no such unfortunate incidents take place," he said.

Conference

British informants, meanwhile, said Britain has spurned a Russian proposal for a Formosa conference without the participation of Nationalist China. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was reported to have suggested a conference of the major powers and Red China during a talk last Friday with British Ambassador Sir William Hayter.

The British envoy later reportedly informed the Kremlin the Churchill government feels a Formosa parley could not succeed unless all the parties concerned were present.

The informants said Sir William is continuing his exchanges with Molotov.

The Churchill government was pictured as believing—like Nehru—that the changes in the Soviet leadership will not substantially affect the dealings on Formosa.

Ike Urges Heart-And-Soul Effort To Prevent Use Of H-Bomb

Grave Blast Threat Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday the hydrogen bomb poses so grave a threat to civilization that intelligent persons must strive heart and soul to prevent its use in warfare.

That was the President's indirect comment on Tuesday's statement by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that "world civilization will not perish" if war comes.

Molotov said his Moscow policy address that only "the rotten special system," as he put it, of the West would face destruction.

Less than a year ago Georgi Malenkov, now ousted as Russia's Premier, expressed a contrary view which many Western statesmen also have voiced—that an H-bomb war would destroy all the countries involved in it.

Side Effects

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference Wednesday, in the light of Molotov's speech, what he could say on a scientific basis about the H-bomb's destructive power.

Hesitantly, the President replied that of course there are side-effects from an H-bomb explosion, in addition to the tremendous shock and heat.

"There are," he said, "certain radioactive effects that in the immediate vicinity can be very, very bad."

Orville Strain Dies; Native Nebraskan

Orville S. Strain, 78, a native Nebraskan, died in California following a stroke suffered a week ago.

He was a brother of T. B. Strain, Mrs. J. L. Packard and Mrs. J. A. Brown of Lincoln.

Mr. Strain was born in the Nebraska Sandhills, on a neighboring ranch to that of Jules Sandoz.

Surviving besides the Lincoln brother and sisters are his wife and two other brothers, Vernon of Sioux City and Elvin of Sioux Falls, S.D., and another sister, Mrs. Richard Kellogg, of the West Coast.

Services are to be at 2 p.m. Thursday at Van Nuys, Calif., with burial at Holly Hills Cemetery.

Larkin Suggests Indian Studies

Sen. Jack Larkin of Omaha said Wednesday that the state should make a study of Nebraska's responsibilities to Indians since the federal government gradually is dropping those responsibilities.

"I personally believe the need is great enough that I would be willing to serve on a committee to study this matter," said Larkin. "But I think there should be a study first before we think of setting up a commission."

A state Indian affairs commission was requested by representatives of the Inter-Tribal Commission, meeting with Gov. Anderson this week.

Mrs. Ray Stankle, Hordville, Dead

Mrs. Ray Stankle, 44, of Hordville, died in Lincoln Tuesday.

Mrs. Stankle was born in Polk and had lived in Nebraska all her life.

Surviving are her husband; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scheapler of Polk; twin sister, Mrs. Henry Blase of Polk; and sister, Delta of Polk.

And, the President added without elaboration, there are methods of protection.

'New Dimension'

WASHINGTON (INS)—A leading atomic scientist declared that radioactive dust from one H-bomb could kill every person in a state the size of Maryland and added that this factor constitutes a "new dimension" in war.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, greatly enlarging estimates he previously made of the radioactive "fall-out" danger, urged a two billion dollar program to build underground survival shelters around American cities.

He described the danger as "a third quantum jump" in nuclear destructiveness, with the atomic and hydrogen bombs as the first two, and said its significance dwarfs the bombing of Hiroshima.

Lapp's calculations, pro-rating particles from one H-bomb over more than 8,000 square miles, showed that every exposed person would suffer twice the lethal radiation dose in the first nine hours.

ST. LOUIS (INS)—Atomic scientist Dr. Arthur H. Compton questioned the claim of Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that Russia has developed the hydrogen bomb with "such success that the United States could appear backward."

In an interview, Compton told International News Service:

"My own direct sources of information indicate the level of nuclear activity in Russia seems to be—if anything—behind."

He acknowledged, however, that the Russian scientists are known to have made "marked progress" in two fields of atomic-hydrogen weapons.

The Nobel Prize winner initiated and directed development of the first atomic chain reaction and the first quantity production of plutonium while working in a secret University of Chicago laboratory for the "Manhattan Project."

Right Back Where We Started

WE'RE tired of talking about January snow, February thaws and the idea of March; we're tired of discussing April showers, May flowers and the outlook for June processional aisles; we're also tired of July vacations, August vacations; of September and rush week, September and school; October's bright blue weather and football; November's Thanksgiving — and football; December and the holiday season — and there we are, right up to '56 — and no place to go — maybe we're just tired of the weather—anyway — we're right back where we started — with February.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Held, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gustin, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmquist.

AND this is the morning that Miss Louise Slam, who is to marry Myron Garfinkle on March 6, is announcing the members of the bridal party. The ceremony will be solemnized at 8 o'clock in the evening at Hotel Cornhusker, and for her matron of honor the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. Sigmund Safier of Jacksonville, Fla., and her bridesmaid and bridesmaids include Miss Janice Weil, Mrs. Eugene Sackin, Kansas City, Kan.; Mrs. Howard Hurwitz, Lawrence, Kan., and Mrs. Alan Katskee, Ellen Jane Safier of Jacksonville, Fla., will serve her aunt as flower girl.

Eugene Sackin of Kansas City will serve Mr. Garfinkle as best man, and the ushers will include Jack Belau, Kansas City; Jerome Katz, Jamaica, N.Y.; Howard Hurwitz, Lawrence, Kan., and Allan Garfinkle of Leavenworth, Kan.

UNDERSTAND that the Merrimay Dancing Club members will be out and about Saturday evening, attending their Valentine party at Hotel Cornhusker — In charge of the party details is a committee which includes Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maser, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Barth, Dr. and Mrs. George Place, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swedburg.

NEWS from Lake Charles, La., tells us of the birth of a daughter to Maj. and Mrs. John Brownlee on Wednesday, Feb. 9. Mrs. Brownlee, as almost everyone knows, is the former Elizabeth C. Waugh of Washington D.C., formerly of Lincoln. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Brownlee of Omaha.

OUT AT the airport Wednesday night were members of a Thursday night dinner group who were on hand to greet Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Campbell as they de-planed on home ground after a month's holiday in Hawaii and California. In Honolulu Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. John Agee composed a dinner foursome shortly before and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell took off for home.

ATO Auxiliary Luncheon

Mrs. James E. Nicola will be hostess to the members of the Alpha Tau Omega Auxiliary at her home, 3940 Folsom, Friday afternoon. Following a 1 o'clock luncheon, a program on hats will be given by Mrs. Marie Carlmark.

Assisting Mrs. Nicola as hostesses will be Mrs. C. E. Scanlon, Mrs. James Critchfield, Mrs. E. F. Cotter, Mrs. Myron Noble and Mrs. Hugh A. Curtiss.

The Brides' Book Says:

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Costello and their daughter, Miss Nancy Costello, will entertain at home Friday evening for the members of the bridal party for Miss Costello's wedding to Norman Kovanda on Saturday, Feb. 12. The informal party will be held following the wedding rehearsal at Blessed Sacrament Church.

Miss Darlene Blum this morning is announcing the date for her marriage to Robert K. Petersen. The wedding will take place on Saturday, Feb. 26, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the First Lutheran Church.

As her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Blum has chosen her twin sister, Miss Arlene Blum, and serving Mr. Petersen as best man will be his brother, Russell Petersen of Minneapolis.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Blum, Miss Evelyn Cole and Miss Arlene Blum will be co-hostesses Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower. The party will be held at the YWCA, and following an informal evening, refreshments will be served.

A February bride-to-be, Miss Marilyn Honnens, was the honored guest Tuesday evening when Mrs. James Hall entertained a group of friends at her home. A pantry shower was presented to Miss Honnens, whose marriage to Charlie LeRoy Mopre will take place on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 13.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Honnens will entertain at a pre-nuptial dinner at their home in courtesy to their daughter and her fiancé. Following the dinner, the 20 guests, all members of the family and bridal party, will attend the wedding rehearsal at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Dolores Mills, who will become the bride of Robert Lee Davis on Saturday, Feb. 19, the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Maurice Paulson will be hostess on Sunday afternoon. Twenty guests have been invited for an informal afternoon at the Paulson home, and a miscellaneous shower will be presented to Miss Mills.

Also revealing plans for her wedding this morning is Miss Joan Pittard whose betrothal to Joe E. Schelkopf of Geneva was announced recently. The marriage will take place on Sunday, March 6, and will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Geneva.

Miss Joyce Sanders of Shickley will be Miss Pittard's maid of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Rosemarie O'Brien of Lincoln. Miss Linda Bornschlegel of Ohio, niece of the bridegroom-elect, will be the flower girl, and lighting the candles for the service will be Miss Donna Koehler of Geneva, and Miss Mary Zellers of Columbus.

Roger Pittard, brother of the bride-to-be, will serve Mr. Schelkopf as best man, and included among the ushers will be Jake Bornschlegel of Ohio.

BSP Chapter To Hold Party

The members of Delta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will entertain their husbands and escorts at a Valentine party to be held Friday evening at the home of Miss Elda Atkins, 3610 C. The evening hours will be spent informally with dancing and cards, after which a buffet supper will be served.

Belmont Center Board Meets

The board of directors of the Belmont Community Center met at the Center Wednesday evening to install newly-elected officers of the board. Re-elected to office in January were Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, president, and Miss Dorothy Holtorf, secretary. New officers are Edgar Hester, treasurer, and William Bogar, vice president. Pictured are (seated, left to right) Mr. Schultz; Harry Simon, president of the Community Chest Board; Mrs. Doris Pierce, program director at the

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson of Kansas City, Mo., are the parents of an eight pound, ten ounce girl born Wednesday, Feb. 9, in Kansas City. Both Mr. Swanson and Mrs. Swanson, the former Marilyn Kirkeby, are former members of The Lincoln Star news staff.

January Elopement

A new Mr.-and-Mrs. combination in town are Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers whose elopement on Jan. 29, was made known earlier this week. Mrs. Rogers is the former Darlene Luse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Luse, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Rogers.

Mr. Rogers, a pre-med student at the University of Nebraska, thinks that having a steaming cup of coffee waiting for him when he comes home from classes is a wonderful idea.

The ceremony took place in Council Bluffs with Mr. Rogers' uncle, the Rev. Howard Dooley of the First Presbyterian Church, reading the lines.

To Entertain PEO Chapter

The regular meeting of Chapter DN, PEO, will be held at 7:30 o'clock, Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. T. E. Barger, 2310 Smith.

The program will consist of the reading of the president's letter, the state by-laws and standing rules. Assisting Mrs. Barger as hostess will be Mrs. Daisy Williams.

Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae Party

The alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta will entertain at a Valentine party Saturday evening at the chapter house, 1619 R, with their husbands as special guests.

Members of the hostess committee in charge of arrangements are Mrs. William R. Peterson, Mrs. Douglas D. Lewis, Mrs. Tom Prehn and Mrs. Don Stacy.

Sharon Club Plans Dinner

The Sharon Extension Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alvah Markussen. The members completed plans to entertain their husbands at a 7 o'clock dinner, Tuesday evening, Feb. 22, at Cotner Terrace.

The lesson on, "Repairing Electrical Appliances," was given by Mrs. Elmer Christiansen, and a talk, "Health," was presented by Miss Hazel Cooley. Mrs. Mark Hedges was reading leader.

A guest of the club was Mrs. Paul Gillson.

Aircraft Fuel Tax Distribution Plan Opposed

The Nebraska Aviation Trades Assn. Wednesday expressed opposition to the legislative bill setting up a distribution formula for aircraft fuel tax on the grounds that it would unduly benefit Omaha and Grand Island.

William Latta, Hastings, secretary-treasurer of the group, said most of the aircraft fuel is sold in Grand Island and Omaha and that the formula in LB 458 would send most of the funds back to those cities.

He said the association is opposed to an overbalance of aid to any airport in the state. "Grand Island bought its airport for one dollar," said Latta, "That's more help than any airport in the state has received."

The association said the money should be distributed on a basis of need instead of taking into consideration the amount of fuel sold. Concluding its annual two day convention here, the aviation trades also passed resolutions opposing two other bills.

Charles Haesecker, Lincoln, was re-elected president of the association, and Latta was renamed secretary-treasurer.

New Red Rules

TOKYO (Thursday) (INS) — Communist China announced it has adopted a new set of rules and rank for officers designed to strengthen and modernize its huge army in line with the system of compulsory military service. The rules, instituting 14 officer grades topped by the rank of "supreme marshal," were embodied in a law passed by Red China's People's Congress and signed by President Mao Tse-tung, according to Radio Peiping.

Youth Captured

WICHITA, Kan. (INS)—A 19-year-old California youth, said to be wanted for robbery of a service station, kidnapping and attempted murder, was shot and captured by a Wichita detective. The youth, identified by police as Thomas Edwin Clay of South Gate, Calif., was found in a small hotel by detective James Bruff. When the youth made a motion, the detective thought he was trying to draw a gun, and fired. The bullet pierced Clay's upper chest but hospital attendants say he will recover.

Tentative OK Given Trade Treaty Extension Plan

WASHINGTON — Members of the House Ways and Means Committee reported Wednesday they have tentatively approved, by a margin of 2-1, President Eisenhower's request for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade treaty.

They said a similar margin gave approval to the President's bid for authority to cut tariffs 5 per cent for each of the three years. Eisenhower asked the authority as a means for expanding world trade.

Eisenhower asked much the same last year, when Republicans were in control of Congress, but settled for a one-year extension without any additional tariff-cutting power.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) called another committee meeting for Thursday to speed the bill to the floor for action next week.

Members said that in view of the lineup in voting Wednesday, they did not expect the tentative decisions to be overturned.

The Trade Agreements Act permits the President to negotiate lower tariffs on foreign goods coming into the United States in exchange for trade benefits on American goods going abroad.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have said this would be a vital step in strengthening the free world alliance. It would help foreign Allies by encouraging them to sell more goods here, they have argued, and it would help America by boosting U.S. exports.

Opponents have contended that increases in foreign imports to the United States could destroy or weaken a long list of American industries, some of which they argue are vital to national defense.

The committee also tentatively approved Wednesday sections in which would permit the President, in negotiating trade agreements, to cut tariffs in two other ways:

1. He could cut rates now above 50 per cent down to that level.

2. And on goods not now coming into the United States in appreciable amounts, he could cut the tariff to 50 per cent of the rate in January, 1945.

Members said trade-restricting amendments were defeated which would have called for more protection against foreign oil imports and against imports of chemicals, electrical equipment, machine tools and other items.

6,700 Expected On NU Semester Rolls

A University of Nebraska enrollment of approximately 6,700 students for the second semester was predicted today by Dr. Floyd Hoover, director of registrations and records.

Last year's second-semester enrollment was 6,180.

Dr. Hoover said Wednesday that 6,461 students have been enrolled, and that approximately 250 more are expected to enter the University in the next week and a half. Registration closes Feb. 19.

Aldrich Estate Value $128,000

The estate of Bess Streeter Aldrich, famed Lincoln author who died last Aug. 3, has been valued at more than $128,000.

An inventory filed in Lancaster County Court lists personal property, largely stocks, valued at $11,471.66 and two Lincoln real estate holdings totaling $55,000. Her home in Piedmont was valued at $45,000.

Two life insurance policies and more than $34,000 in jointly-held U.S. Savings bonds are listed. Also included but not valued, were royal contracts for publication of 13 literary works.

The author's estate, under her will, was left in equal shares to her four children, Mary Aldrich Beecher of Lincoln; James W. Aldrich of New York, N. Y.; Charles S. Aldrich of Long Island, N. Y., and Robert S. Aldrich of Lincoln.

Solons To Hear Sandritter, Vogt Speak On Mentally Ill

The Legislature voted Wednesday to invite two men to address it on the needs and conditions of mentally ill persons and the state hospitals for the mentally ill.

The resolution, introduced by Sen. John Adams of Omaha, authorizes the speaker to invite Dr. G. Lee Sandritter, superintendent of Hastings State Hospital, and Phillip H. Vogt, Douglas County welfare director.

The membership was not unanimous however. Only 22 senators, barely the number required, voted for the resolution. There were nine "no" votes.

Burney Questions Wisdom
In debate on the resolution, Speaker Dwight Burney, who has the duty of extending the invitation on behalf of the Legislature, questioned wisdom of the move.

He said the Legislature has "lots of work" to do, and asked if it wished to "open this up" and take time to hear outsiders on various subjects which might be suggested. Sen. Syas of Omaha, favoring the proposal, said he did not wish to cause any controversy.

Burney said later Wednesday he did not know what date might be arranged for appearance of the two men.

Nebraska Farm Bureau Head To Speak Here

Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 10 at the auditorium of the Agronomy Building at Ag College. His subject will be "Agricultural Trade."

The meeting is sponsored by the Agricultural Economics Club and the Block and Bridge Club in cooperation with the Agronomy Club and the Varsity Dairy Club. The public is invited. There will be a question and answer period following the talk.

No Sorrow As Fence Comes Down

Red Schoendienst (left), St. Louis Cardinal second baseman, and outfielder Stan Musial don't appear broken-hearted as the right field screen comes down at Busch Stadium in St. Louis Wednesday. The screen was put up in 1930 to add to the difficulty of getting home runs. Now the Cardinals have decided what they need is more home runs to win the 1955 pennant. (UP Telephoto.)

Pro Star Tries Again In Big Ten

Saban Must 'Shoot Works' In One Year

By JERRY LISKA

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—For the second time in a decade, a former professional playing star will try to make good as a Big Ten football coach when Lou Saban shoots the works in a one-year pact at Northwestern.

The 33-year-old Saban, named as successor to alumni-plagued Bob Voigts, is the first pro star to enter the high-pressure Big Ten mentoring ranks since Cecil Isbell served at Purdue (1944-46).

Ironically, both Voigts and Saban came to Northwestern, indirectly, from the Cleveland Browns and both are admirers and devotees of Paul Brown, the pensive and plotting coaching genius of the Browns.

Frick Blasts Expansion Talk

Rocky's Million-Dollar Nose Gets Private Test

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano's million-dollar nose is scheduled to be tested in full view of the press next Tuesday but Manager Al Weill, having set the date himself, isn't going to wait that long.

"I'm going up to Grossinger's,

Pros Plan Easy Time In Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Touring pros are expected to treat the simple El Rio course like a toy during the $10,000 Tucson Open golf tourney starting today.

Ricki Rarick, tourney director, doesn't think par golf will win a nickel.

Ed Furgol, St. Louis, Mo., the U.S. Open champ, predicted, "If this weather continues it will take a 265 to win." That is 15 under par for the 6,409-yard, par 70 layout.

$2,000 Prize

So the winner will probably have to average three rounds of 66 each and one of 67, or better, to grab the top prize of $2,000.

Several of the game's more popular names are missing. Bob Toski, Livingston, N.J., last year's top money-winner, hasn't joined the circuit because of exhibition commitments. Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., a two-time winner here, wanted to play but is ill.

"We may have a little razzle dazzle," Saban said, "most of it will be what I've learned with the Cleveland Browns and what I've picked up under any other coaches—Bobby Cherberg at Washington and Bob here at Northwest."

Saban intends to name his staff within a week.

The weather is ideal. The weatherman forecasts temperatures above the average of 66 for the four days of the tourney.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., top money-winner of the year to date, is considered a major threat. He won the Phoenix Open last week. Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N.C., invariably plays well here.

Tommy Bolt, Houston, Tex., won the event the last time it was played in 1953. He has been complaining about a cold in his shoulder.

Jimmy Demaret, Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., is seeking a third championship. Henry Williams Jr., Reading Pa., would like to repeat his victory of 1952.

A field of 141, including 11 amateurs, will play 18-hole rounds Thursday and Friday. The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties for the final two days of play.

DENVER (AP)—Gov. Ed C. Johnson, president of the Class A Western League, said Wednesday a meeting of the six-club circuit will be held in Denver Sunday.

Johnson told reporters "A choice of my successor as league president will be made at the meeting." He said league directors know of his intention to step down "because I have too much work in my present job."

Johnson was a U.S. senator for 18 years until he decided to run for governor last fall.

Erway's Condition Reported As Good

DON Erway, sophomore quarterback on the University of Nebraska football team and a Husker baseball catching prospect, was reported in good condition at a Lincoln hospital Wednesday night after a knee operation.

Erway's left leg was placed in a full-length cast following the operation. He suffered from bursts in both knees during recent months.

Dukes Win Easily

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Duquesne University's basketball team, first in the country to accept a bid to the National Invitation tournament at New York, exhibited its tightest defense of the season in trouncing Carnegie Tech 62-27. The victory, seventh in a row for the Dukes, gave them a 14-3 record.

Wolfpack Rambles

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—North Carolina State's sharp-shooting basketball team and its All-America candidate, Ronnie Shavlik, went on a record-breaking scoring spree here Wednesday night as the seventh-ranked Wolfpack trounced William and Mary 126-99 before a sellout crowd of 2,000.

VMI Routed

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Richmond's Spiders took a firmer grip on the Southern Conference basketball leadership by routing Virginia Military 76-54. The triumph was Richmond's ninth in 10 conference games.

Executives In Majors Asked To Button Lips

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick has warned all major league executives he will consider loose talk about expansion "detrimental to baseball" until the time has come for specific action.

Frick's order, sent privately to all major league clubs as "Notice No. 5, Re: League Expansion" was aimed at buttoning the lips of baseball men who name minor league cities and expansion dates in public.

Several times Frick has been quoted as saying he thought expansion was inevitable and there is no indication he has changed his mind. However, he sees the harm to minor league franchise owners in "loose talk of their major league brothers."

Status Quo

The National League recently announced it had abandoned the 10-city idea for the present and the American League said it planned no immediate expansion although it set up standards for new applicants.

The names of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas, Ft. Worth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Montreal and Toronto have been banded around ever since the successful shift of the Boston Braves to Milwaukee. The shifts of the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore and the Philadelphia A's to Kansas City brought new pressure from minor league cities.

Clears Air

In trying to clear the air while details for any expansion moves are worked out, Frick issued the following order to all major league clubs:

"Gentlemen: Both leagues have not had opportunity to discuss the question of league expansion and both leagues have decided that, for the time being at least, any further expansion will not occur."

"While everyone in baseball recognizes that expansion is inevitable as a long range program, no purpose is served by continued interviews, publicity and discussion on this subject. Quite the contrary, minor league cities are being definitely harmed by this loose talk on the part of their major league brothers."

From this time on, until the time has come when definite and specific action is to be taken, let there be no more speculation and publicly expressed opinion as to when, how and where expansion will come. Such talk, if persisted in, must be considered by the commissioner as detrimental to baseball."

"Sincerely, Ford Frick."

Brainard To Second Round

LINCOLN STAR SPECIAL

DAVID CITY—Powerful Brainard, champion of the Butler County Tournament the past five years, exploded in the last two minutes and pulled away from a stubborn Bellwood team for a 52-38 victory in the opening round of the tournament Wednesday night.

Rated Dwight Assumption handled David City St. Mary's, 45-32, in the other first round game.

Tonight Rising City plays Marietta of Bellwood at 7 p.m. and Linwood meets Ulysses at 8:30.

Dennis Swanda scored 17 points for Brainard. The champions were ahead by only four points with two minutes left in the game, but Bellwood folded before a sudden burst of Brainard points.

Don Hiller scored 14 points for Bellwood.

Consistent Ed Trouba hit 21 points as Dwight Assumption rolled over St. Mary's.

Filley's Big Siefkes Top Star Of Week

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Harlan Siefkes, possibly the biggest name in southern-state basketball since Rex Eckwall stopped shooting for Holmesville two years ago, led Filley High to the Gage County Tournament title last week and today is The Star's Star of the Week.

Six-foot, four-inch Siefkes scored 20 points in a close tournament victory over Clatonia, then returned to the Beatrice floor and shot the Wildcats to their second straight county championship with a 25-point performance against Holmesville.

It was a big week in state basketball with several boys sparkling in championship tournament games and many crashing through with the high points which won important conference battles.

Among those who shone across the cornlands were:

Tom Osburne, Hastings—The Tiger veteran went into the high twenties against Grand Island and McCook.

Lefty Hulchuck, Columbus—The big sophomore scored 21 points in defeat at Seward.

Nick, Cedar Rapids—His 33 points upset Weston in the finals of the Saunders County Tournament.

Dean Houfek, Clarkson—His late scoring carried strong Clarkson past Lehigh in the regional invitational final.

Ron Heim, Fremont—He cracked in a long shot which beat the Sun and Concordia by one point.

Al Graves, Lincoln High—The tall kid hit 22 points as the Links fought off a determined North Platte team.

Dell Rathe, Sterling—His 26 points scored Wilber.

Gene Blackman, Norfolk—This Panther bounced in a shot in the last minute and lifted Norfolk above David City.

Pat Novack, Tekamah—Twenty-four points by Novack were big in the Tigers' victory over Bellevue.

Don Hokenstad, Crete—Schuyler fell before Crete as this boy hit 30 points.

Don Osowski, Blue Springs—The husky junior continued his strong play in a second performance as Blue Springs fell before a determined North Platte team.

Gary Fair, Holstein—His 22 points hurt Campbell as Holstein won another.

Larry Bennett, Franklin—St. Cecilia's of Hastings won the game but Bennett scored 25 points.

Val Huff, Tecumseh—He played a fine floor game and led Tecumseh scoring in the defeat of a powerful St. Charles team.

Ed Trombs, Dwight Assumption—Urbans battled undefeated Assumption all the way, but Trombs' 23 killed the effort.

Roger Weber, Sterling—Unsung Weber dropped in 24 points in the defeat of a capable DeWitt team.

Dick Wolf, Diller—This short shooter made 35 points in Diller's victory over Leavitt in the Homecoming Tournament.

Ron Schroeder, Plymouth—He led the Pilgrims in the Homecoming title.

Met Vosh, Odell—His points kept Odell in the Homecoming battle until Plymouth beat the Tigers.

Bob Hindman, Hebron—The rising Bears almost upset Minden as Hindman scored 20 points.

Jerry Collier and Nels Kladden, Falls City—Their play was notable as Tecumseh was defeated for the first time.

Kentucky Winner

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky took control early and experimented much of the way Wednesday night in scoring an 86-40 Southeastern Conference basketball victory over Georgia to tighten its hold on the lead.

The Wildcats, rated No. 2 nationally, rolled up a 50-20 halftime margin and Coach Adolph Rupp saw 11 of the 12 players he used score as he tried various combinations.

Lincoln Pair Leads Bowlers

BEATRICE — George Fisk and Dr. Hollis Reinmuth of Lincoln are one-two in the singles division of the 12th annual Burwood Hotel Bowling Tournament.

Fisk leads with a 679 followed by Dr. Reinmuth with a 672. The tournament concludes next week end.

Third in singles competition is B. Phillips of Kansas City, 670; followed by H. Ohlsen, Omaha, 662; and D. Thomas of Hamburg, Ia., 658.

A. Nelson and B. Currie of Omaha lead the doubles with a 1254 followed by F. Przybyski and L. Przybyski of St. Joseph, 1228; E. Liska and D. Hubba, Omaha, 1210; Dr. J. Krim and W. Sage, Beatrice, 1205; J. Pahl and B. Barker, Omaha, 1196.

Lacy Cafe of Blair posted a 2950 to lead the teams. Trailing are Meadow Gold of Beatrice, 2949; Bartlett of Lincoln, 2899; Old Style of Omaha, 2878; and National Bank of Commerce of Lincoln, 2873.

Tekamah Will Test Oakland

Lincoln Star Special

OAKLAND — Oakland romped and Tekamah squeezed into the finals of the Burt County tournament here with semifinals Wednesday night over Decatur and Lyons respectively.

Oakland defeated Decatur 51-44 and Tekamah edged Lyons 52-50. Finals will be played Friday night.

Coach Kenny Fischer's Oakland crew ran the first quarter, stalled the second, ran again in the third and stalled out the fourth for its win. Pat Fischer led the scoring with 16 points while Clarence Walker had 14 for the losers.

Oakland 51-44 Lyons 52-50
Decatur 44-44 Lyons 52-50

Tekamah got its edge in the second period after the first quarter ended in an 18-18 tie. At the half the Tigers were leading 30-27 and were never headed.

Fred Koudele scored 18 for the winners, while Paul Smith had 19 for Lyons.

Tekamah 30-27 Lyons 27-27
Lyons 27-27 Lyons 27-27

Baker Kayoes James In Two

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bob Baker, burly Pittsburgh Negro kayoe Willie James in two minutes and 50 seconds of the second round Wednesday night in a nationally televised scheduled 10-round.

Baker, who weighed in at 219 1/2 pounds, didn't even get warmed up in the first round. James, sharp punching 207-pounder, came out at the bell to assume command. He jabbed Baker's head back with good straight rights and lefts and in the opinion of most ringside observers took the round.

Baker, stung by the punches of the Roxbury, Mass., heavyweight hopeful, proceeded with business-like air in the second. He scored with a series of left hooks that bewildered James and finally cornered his foe for the kill just before the round ended.

Winning Punches

Baker's winning punches were a series of clean, hard rights to the chin. James was still on his knees when Referee Benny Goldstein counted 10.

Baker, fourth-ranked heavyweight, said after the fight he got "shook up" from one of James' left hooks in the first round. But he insisted he "wants the money" and pointed to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano as the guy who holds the purse strings.

If he can't get Marciano Baker said he wanted Nino Valdes. Baker has defeated Valdes before. The Pittsburgh giant suggested March 11 or 18 as a date with Valdes, the winner to get a shot at Marciano.

James said he got nailed with a left, pulled back from that punch and scarcely knew what hit him. He said he wanted to fight Baker again.

This was James' first television appearance and he was obviously nervous.

Semifinals Set In Southern Nebraska

Lincoln Star Special

SHICKLEY—Three teams won clear victories in the opening round of the Southern Nebraska Seven Tournament Wednesday.

U.S. Sea, Airpower Greatest Says Seaton

Kansas State Pays Honor To Nebraskan

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Defense Fred Seaton said Wednesday that in any future war the United States would contribute a preponderant share of sea and airpower while relying on its allies to provide the major part of ground troops.

Seaton, who will shortly become an administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, declared that all the alliances to which the United States is a party provide that each partner will contribute to the common cause elements it is best able to supply.

U. S. Advantages

"In this great global system of alliances in which we participate," he added, "our nation is peculiarly well suited to supply two vital elements — seapower and the striking capability of long-range land-based airpower."

The United States has made and again would make substantial contributions in ground strength "but we cannot hope to supply more than a small part of the total number of troops required," Seaton told a farm and home week audience at Kansas State College.

"We feel militarily well able to take care of ourselves in the event of actual physical attack," Seaton said, "provided we conduct our operations along lines which permit us to oppose our own factors of strength against the Soviet factors of weakness."

Factors of Strength

Among factors of free world strength, Seaton listed a powerful and versatile economy, a depth and breadth of technology and "the enormous firepower and mobility assured by our intensive development of atomic weapons and our control of the seas."

Seaton said that in contrast the Soviets have nothing to rely upon except "force of the most brutal and callous sort" backed by sheer numbers of men.

Seaton, publisher of The Hastings, Neb., Tribune, received an honorary doctor of laws degree in special ceremonies at Kansas State College Wednesday.

Hooper Man Dead 2 Weeks Before Officers Called

HOOPER, Neb. (AP) — The body of a 62-year-old man who died "two weeks ago or longer" has been found by Dodge County officers in a bed of his home here.

Officers said his wife had been living in the closed house since the man died.

County Attorney William G. Line said the dead man was William Ronsick, long-time resident of Hooper. Physicians who examined the body said death was due to natural causes.

County Sheriff Pelham McGee was called to Hooper by neighbors who had not seen Ronsick recently. McGee forced entry when Mrs. Ronsick refused to let him come in. Line quoted Mrs. Ronsick, 54, as saying she thought her husband was "still breathing."

Wesleyan's Big Snob, Old Grouch Selected

Elaine Krondak, Falls City senior, and Jerry Kroeger, David City senior, have been chosen as Big Snob and Old Grouch by affiliated students at Nebraska Wesleyan University. The titles—slightly different in meaning than a literal interpretation would indicate, are representative of the most popular coed and man on the Wesleyan campus. Miss Krondak is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Kroeger is a Theta Chi and a member of the varsity basketball team. (Wesleyan News Service Photo.)

Higher Fort Randall Voltage Line Prospects Dim Until '60

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department said it can not justify a budget request now for money to build a higher voltage transmission line from Fort Randall dam to Neigh, Neb.

Dewey DeBoer of Columbus, executive director of the Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS), disclosed the department's stand after a conference with its ranking officials.

The new budget proposes a million dollars to start construction of a 115 kilovolt line from the dam on the Missouri River to Neigh.

DeBoer said he hoped Nebraska legislators would urge the appropriations committee to increase this to about 3 1/4 million and authorize the 230 kilovolt voltage line.

Fail to Meet Needs

He said the smaller voltage line will not meet Nebraska power needs either now or in the future. The transmission line would carry Missouri River power into Nebraska for distribution by NPPS. The agency seeks a 230 kilovolt line from Fort Randall to Grand Island, Neb. DeBoer said he realized it would be impractical to try to build this line by 1956 and his group wants the higher voltage line to be built as far as Neigh now.

After a conference with Fred Aandahl, assistant Secretary of the Interior, DeBoer told a reporter that Aandahl said he could not justify a more expensive line until more power comes in from Oahe dam in 1960.

Increased Role For Libraries Aiding Public

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Libraries, says Dr. Edith P. Stickney, are no longer looked upon as book morgues.

Better library architecture and book design are attracting more and more people, says Dr. Stickney, Midland College librarian. And the libraries are making themselves more useful. They are doing it, Dr. Stickney thinks, in these ways:

1. Through increased audio-visual services; 2. Inauguration of speaker's bureaus; 3. Programming for community and school groups; 4. Emphasis on the library as an information service; and 5. Pooling of resources through inter-library loan systems.

Milius Asks Government Spending Cut

OMAHA (AP) — A demand for cuts in spending both by state and federal governments, highlighted the address of President Chris Milius at the opening session of the 42nd annual Farmers Union convention Wednesday.

"I wonder if we realize that we can bankrupt ourselves through taxation?" Milius asked. "How long can we increase government by the constant agitation of new bureaus, boards and commissions that start small and grow with continual requests for more money?"

Milius told the nearly 1,000 delegates and their wives that a period of highest income is the time to pay the federal debt.

Appropriation Cited

He also reminded them that the Nebraska Legislature at this session will possibly appropriate 215 to 220 million dollars. The 1953-1955 biennium budget was $197,402,441.

"As government increases taxes fixed by law how long can we afford to pay the fixed load if the laws of nature should fail us, unemployment develop or price decline?" he asked.

"Farmers need organized effort to assure a better rural life," he continued. "What we do co-operatively for each other can act as a balance wheel in the economic system and at the same time require less governmental cost and interference. We will be hopeless without that organization," he declared.

Winners Named In 4-H Speech Meet

Lincoln Star Special
WAYNE, Neb.—Ralph Polly, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Polly of Dakota City, and Patsy Cunningham, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cunningham of Primrose, won the 4-H Timely Topics sub-district contest here.

Polly spoke on "Safety for Farmers," while Miss Cunningham's topic was "Teenage Driving." Both will compete in the state Timely Topics contest during 4-H club week in Lincoln during June. State winners will receive $150 scholarships to the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Burgeson To Head Board Of Trustees

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — Paul Burgeson, former mayor and longtime civic leader, has been named president of the board of trustees of Memorial Homes, Inc., home for the aged here.

He succeeds Robert H. Perry, Holdrege banker, who has been president for the past three years.

Further expansion of the home including 200,000 additions to the structure were urged in a report by Cletus Nelson, board secretary. The home for the aged was opened late in 1953 as a community project.

Nebraska News Five Nominated For AF Academy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Weaver (R-Neb.) Wednesday nominated five Nebraskans for entrance next fall to the U.S. Air Force Academy.

They are: Richard Lynn Trail of McCook, Roger Rieckhoff of Falls City, Irvin Parmenter of Blue Springs, Horace E. Collins Jr. of Beaver City.

Miles A. Kastar of Dorchester. The nominees are eligible to enter a mental and physical examination to be held in Nebraska along with nominees of other Nebraska members of Congress.

Three men will be named to the academy from the state following the examinations.

Two Alliance Youths Become Eagle Scouts

ALLIANCE, Neb. — Kenneth Wurzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Baier, and Jim Appleby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Appleby, all of Alliance, were given the Eagle Boy Scout award at special court of honor ceremonies here.

Raises Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 1 1/4 million workers will receive wage increases averaging nine cents an hour if Congress approves President Eisenhower's request for a 90-cent minimum wage, Secretary of Labor Mitchell said.

The boost would add $180 a year to the income of the average worker benefited, thereby increasing employers' payroll costs by nearly 230 million dollars annually.

U.N. Command Accuses Reds Of Armistice Violation By Bringing MIGs To North Korea

SEOUL (Thursday) (INS)—The United Nations Command accused the Communists of violating the Korean armistice by bringing into North Korea Russian-made MIG-15 jets, eight of which made an "unwarranted and illegal" attack on U.S. planes last Saturday.

The charge was touched off by a Communist admission that the MIGs involved in the incident belonged to the Red North Korean Air Force—an acknowledgment that apparently caught the Communist in a trap of their own making.

Charges and counter-charges were traded across the table at a Communist-summoned meeting of the joint Allied-Red Armistice Commission in the truce village of Panmunjom.

The session began with a Communist allegation that American planes "violated" North Korean air space last Saturday and again on Tuesday.

No Loss

Saturday's incident was climaxed when the MIGs swooped down on an RB-45 reconnaissance jet bomber and its escorting F-86

Sabrejet fighters. In the ensuing dogfight, the Sabre pilots shot down two of the MIGs without loss or damage to the American planes.

The U.S. Air Force had said the MIGs were of "unidentified nationality" and that they attacked "without warning" over international waters of the Yellow Sea off Korea's West Coast.

North Korea's official Pyongyang Radio reported the incident for the first time early Wednesday. It said North Korean Air Force interceptors had caused the American planes to "flee southward," but made no mention of the two Communist jets downed in the dogfight.

At the Armistice Commission meeting the chief U. N. delegate, Maj. Gen. Leslie D. Carter, told his Red counterpart, North Korean Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho:

Hostile Act

"The fact that you now acknowledge ownership of the attacking aircraft confirms the fact that your side has committed an hostile act within the meaning of the armistice agreement in this unprovoked and unjustified attack."

Carter pointed out the truce pact forbids either side to bring into Korea any new or new-type planes or other military equipment. He recalled that no planes of the MIG type existed in North Korea at the time the armistice was signed.

This, he said, was "convincing proof" the Reds were boosting their North Korean air strength in violation of the truce agreement.

'Evidence'

During the Korean War all the Communist jets in action were based north of the Yalu River in Communist China's Manchuria.

Lee Sang Cho claimed the American planes Saturday flew over

North Korea, not the Yellow Sea. He told Carter that a fuel tank "and other things dropped by your side" was being held as "evidence."

'Nice Impression'

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer recalled that he had met Soviet Marshal Nikolai Bulganin in the 1930s—and said: "I had a very nice impression of him."

Adenauer told a meeting of German correspondents that Bulganin, the new Soviet Premier who was then mayor of Moscow, visited him in Cologne.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. High Receipts For Farmers Mutual Told

Despite a decline in Nebraska farm income in 1954, premiums received by Farmers Mutual Insurance Company of Nebraska were the highest in the company's 64 year history, it was reported at the annual meeting of policyholders.

Net premiums amounted to $2,187,214, an increase of 7.79 per cent over 1953, according to Mrs. Helen C. Calcaterra, secretary. Assets were $4,899,981 at the year-end, an increase of over $500,000 since 1953. The company's surplus reached $3,113,886 at the end of the year.

Loss payments to policyholders during 1954 amounted to $933,637, a slight decline from the $965,000 paid in 1953. The favorable loss experience was attributed by the officers to a large extent to the increasing number of modern rural fire trucks which are going into service all over the state as a result of the formation of rural fire protection districts.

It was announced that to December 31, 1954, the company had made loans to 99 rural fire districts in an aggregate amount of over $300,000 at 1 per cent interest and had donated over $40,000 to volunteer fire departments in order to encourage the program. The State Fire Marshal has estimated that there are now 244 such districts serving Nebraska farms with modern fire fighting equipment. Savings in farm fire losses have been passed on by the company to its policyholders in credits against farm fire insurance rates. The savings to the company's farm policyholders have amounted to over $287,000 in the past 5 years, it was announced.

Re-elected as officers were Mrs. Helen C. Calcaterra, secretary, and Francis D. Straub, assistant secretary. Other officers and directors are Harold J. Requaite, president; Dwight C. Perkins, vice president and treasurer; W. E. Straub, chairman of the board; Karl F. Schmitt and Frank Waggoner of Alma.

Dr. Kirk Checking 'Physical Evidence' In Sheppard Case

BERKELEY, Calif. (INS)—Dr. Paul Kirk, University of California criminologist retained by the family of convicted wife killer Dr. Samuel Sheppard of Cleveland, declared that certain information "was not adequately developed or taken up" at the trial.

Dr. Kirk, who flew to Cleveland last month to investigate the slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, said he obtained some "physical evidence" to check in his laboratory and added:

"My investigation thus far is fairly satisfactory and I think something will turn up."

He said that preliminary findings he has made in his Berkeley laboratory have "shown that there is more than appeared at the trial."

He would not state, however, whether or not his findings to date indicate if another person other than the osteopath is involved and said it would be "two or three weeks" before he will have anything definite to report to the Sheppard family.

Sullen Negroes Moved From Homes

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, (AP) — Troops and police, joining forces in a blinding rain, moved hundreds of sullen Negroes Wednesday from a ramshackle settlement on Johannesburg's outskirts that is doomed under the government's segregation policies.

Old School Land Board Will Hold 1 More Meeting

The old State Board of School Lands, abolished by the voters of the state last November, will be resurrected for one more meeting next Monday.

The attorney general's office has ruled that the board still may perform statutory functions though it no longer can engage in constitutional duties.

Included among the statutory functions to be performed Monday will be teachers' retirement refunds.

The old board was composed of the governor, attorney general, secretary of state, state treasurer, and the now defunct state superintendent of public instruction.

Another Gas Tax Case Suit Filed

Scotts Bluff County has filed in Lancaster District Court a motion for clarification of the gas tax suit brought by former State Treasurer Frank Heintze.

The county's motion asks Heintze to state which funds are the subject of legal action and to clarify the manner in which he directed allocation of the funds to the counties.

Heintze filed suit against all 93 counties as part of the litigation in the dispute over proper distribution of funds to the counties. He has deposited nearly $3 million with the court.

town, a Negro settlement four miles outside the city limits. The rain-soaked men, women and children were taken to the new government-built township of Meadowlands, 14 miles from the city. The government has promised it will be a model community for non-whites.

But many of the Negroes were warned in advance Tuesday night by a hooded mystery man. In a raging thunderstorm, they carried their children and furniture deeper into the poverty-stricken condemned area rather than go to Meadowlands which they regard as a symbol of continued segregation. The mystery man, apparently a leader of the African National Congress and wanted by police for helping organize a resistance campaign, drove an automobile. Occasionally he got out and walked to dim, wet alleys to whisper instructions.

Sophiatown is in the path of the advancing white suburb of Westdene. Under the racial segregation policies of Prime Minister Johannes G. Strijdom's National party government, it must go. The government calls the move from Sophiatown slum clearance. The area cleared will be used for white residences and factories.

As the authorities moved out all the Negroes they could find, the vacated shacks were flattened so the former residents could not return as squatters.

Many of the Negroes took refuge in the Anglican community of Resurrection and the priory of Christ the King. Two of the clergymen in charge, the Rev. Trevor

"Your collection of rare stamps? Wilbur has them . . . You'll find him at the end of the trail he marked with them!"

Huddleston and the Rev. George Sidebotham, gave the Negroes permission to store their furniture and other belongings on the premises. Eventually, however, the Anglican community itself will be ordered to quit the area as the program expands to resettle at Meadowlands 60,000 nonwhites from several communities in Johannesburg's western suburbs.

Despite high tension, Police Chief Col. Pieter Grober, in charge of the removals, said no clashes occurred Wednesday. No arrests were made and he considered the operation went smoothly.

Higher Pay For First Class Officials Liked

A bill that would open the door to higher salaries for mayors and councilmen in first class cities was held by the Legislature Wednesday to see if the door could be opened wider.

"I would like to see these salaries increased quite substantially," declared Sen. Lee of Fremont.

The measure, LB 54, originally provided for raising the pay of city clerks in first class cities from $2,400 to $4,000. The miscellaneous appropriations committee amended it to raise the ceiling on the mayor's pay from $500 to $750, and on councilmen's pay, from $200 to $400.

Sen. Lee said officials in cities in this class carry a "tremendous burden." Fremont is having trouble finding candidates for the City Council, he added.

Sen. Hubka of Beatrice pointed out, however, that first class cities range in population from 5,000 to 40,000. He suggested a sliding scale of some sort.

"The duties of the mayor of Hastings would differ from those of the mayor of York, but both are first class cities," he commented.

The bill remained on general file so proposed changes can be prepared.

First class cities under the city manager plan would not be affected.

LB 76, raising the pay of county judges in Lancaster and Douglas Counties, advanced Wednesday. As amended on the floor, it provides $9,600 for the district judge in Lancaster County and $10,400 for the district judge in Douglas County. The original bill, introduced by Sens. Tyrdik of Omaha and Perry of Lincoln, proposed somewhat higher figures.

The "keep Nebraska beautiful" bill, LB 16, introduced by Sen. Kathleen Foote of Axtell, advanced without opposition. It adds "rubbish, trash, debris, refuse," to the list of items which may not be tossed out along roadsides in Nebraska.

Mrs. Foote called it "the first step in a highway clean-up program."

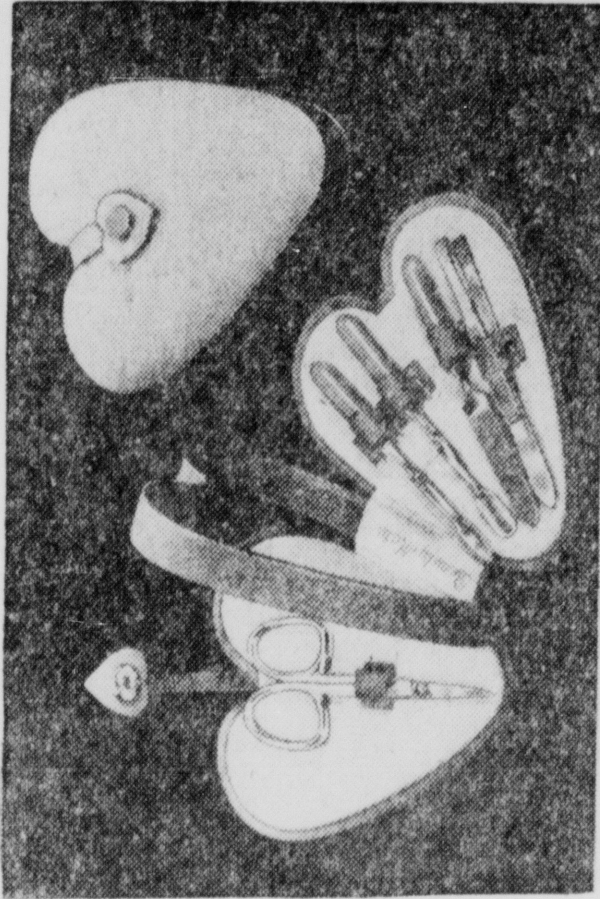

No Aggression

LONDON—The prime ministers of the British Commonwealth warned that an atomic war would "bring ruin upon the human race" and pledged their nine nations "never to embark upon aggression."

"The annihilating power of the new weapons renders it imperative that sanity should prevail and that war should be prevented," the premiers said in a communique at the end of a nine-day conference. They also appealed for a peaceful settlement of the explosive Formosa situation and "resolved to do their utmost to ease international strain."
